Santa Claus will arrive in Haliburton this Saturday

You better watch out, you better not cry, you better not pout, because we are telling you why, Santa Claus is coming town. Santa will be coming to Haliburton this coming Saturday afternoon, December 16. He will be arriving next to the Bank of Montreal in Steinberg's parking lot at 1 p.m. A special Christmas tree will be set up near the platform where Santa will greet all the boys and girls and hand out presents to each and every child.

Following this a free show will take place at the Molou Theatre when an outstanding Walt Disney movie will be shown at 2 p.m. It's all being sponsored by the Rotary Club of Haliburton.

Provincial police constables Bob Pearson and Barry Connelly, both skin divers with the Minden detachment, went practise-diving last Friday afternoon and found two antique lumberman's poles on the bottom of Twelve Mile Lake. The exercises are carried out to keep the men's diving skills sharp.

Ontario Careers Action Program participants involved in workshop

A three-day workshop for participants involved in the Ontario Careers Action Program (OCAP) in Haliburton County was conducted at the local campus of Sir Sandford Fleming College.

Eleven individuals involved in the program attended the workshop. Instructors included insurance representative Art Dawson, bank manager John Schonhoffer, OCAP co-ordinators Kathy Rostetter of the Cobourg campus, and Bev Turner of Peterborough campus.

Haliburton OCAP co-ordinator Faye Schonhoffer termed the workshop "very successful" and said it proved very beneficial for the participants. She and Barbara Bolin are co-ordinators for the County.

Since last April, they have placed 45 individuals in OCAP in Haliburton County. OCAP in Industry was created to provide an opportunity for unemployed persons aged 16 to 24 to receive training and work experience for up to four months, in a specific skill area. Emphasis is to be placed on skills training which are marketable in today's job world.

In Haliburton County now, 12 participants are involved in OCAP work which ranges from secretarial, office work to oil burner repairs, body shop work and municipal clerk experience.

The three-day workshop, conducted Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, is part of the 16-week OCAP experience.

The workshop involved teaching the preparation of resumes, how to prepare for an interview, and interview techniques.

The present OCAP session ends in March and a new one begins again in April, explained co-ordinator Schonhoffer.

New manager appointed

An avid outdoorsman, Cal Wilson is looking forward to being a resident of Haliburton County after his appointment of area manager for Ontario Hydro at Minden.

He replaces Douglas Campbell, who has taken over as manager of the Perth area in the eastern region effective this month.

Wilson, 45, has been area manager for Hydro in the Listowel area in Niagara region for the past four and a half years.

Before his appointment to Listowel, he was sales and service supervisor in Walkerton for three years. He started his Hydro career as a lineman learner at Des Joachims in 1952 and served as a lineman in that district until 1965.

He moved to the Cobden area, where he spent six years as sales and service representative before moving to Walkerton as sales and service supervisor.

Wilson has obtained his Engineering Technician Certificate at Algonquin College while attending school part-time over three years.

He is a man of many activities and has operated a hobby farm with a number of head of beef cattle, has shown prize winning hackneys, kept riding horses for his children. He enjoys welding as a hobby, shoes his own horses and is an avid snowmobiler. He also enjoys bowling, curling and fishing, both winter and summer.

He and his wife, Verla, have seven children ranging in age from 11 to 25 years. Three of the children remain at home. One will be attending secondary school in Haliburton County and the other two elementary school. He has a basic philosophy which seems to have served him in good stead. "By being open and friendly, other people respond to you in the same manner," he says.

Hutton wins seat on area council over newcomer Fran Gillick

After a judicial recount held at Lindsay last Wednesday did not settle it. A draw from a hat last Friday was held to determine who would get the final seat on Cardiff Township council.

Incumbent William Hutton emerged the winner of the draw over newcomer Fran Gillick.

Both candidates became tied at 100 votes each after the November 13 municipal elections. When the judicial recount was completed last week, the pair still remained tied. Both names, it was decided, would be put in a hat last Friday and the one drawn would obtain the final seat on the five-member council.

The draw method was the only way to resolve the deadlock, explained clerk-treasurer Gayle Billings.

Elected to council were incumbents Elmer Hughey and Ross Lawrence, who polled 151 and 114 votes respectively.

Defeated for a seat on council was Bev Lapell, who obtained 80 votes, and Jerry Jordan with 28 votes.

Rotary honours late resident with award

Last Friday, a special Rotary award was presented to Aileen Robertson by the Rotary Club of Haliburton in memory of her late husband, Jack.

The Paul Harris Fellowship award is named after the founder of Rotary International and is the most coveted award available in Rotary. It is presented only to those, or in memory of those who have made exceptional contributions to the advancement of the ideals of Rotary for the benefit of the community in which they have lived as well as Rotary International in general.

Those who have known him during his lifetime will certainly agree that he was a most worthy recipient of this award.

He joined Rotary on March 2, 1944 as a charter member of the Rotary Club of Hal-

Len Salvatori selected as vice-chairman

Johnson elected board chairman

Incumbent trustee Lloyd Johnson, representative of Anson, Hindon and Minden Municipality, was elected chairman of the Haliburton County Board of Education at its inaugural meeting December 5.

An assistant postmaster at the Minden Post Office, he was vice-chairman of the Board of Education during his last term of office.

He replaces past chairman, Vaneita Pickens, who serves on the board as the trustee for Glamorgan Township. She has been on the board for the past four years.

Leonard Salvatori * was elected vice-chairman of the board. He was chairman of the Board of Education in 1970. He has been a member of the Board for the past nine years.

The Board begins its 11th year of operation and only two trustees who were elected to the original Board still remain.

Monmouth trustee Ross Anderson and trustee Salvatori are still members.

The 1979 Board has four new faces joining the rest of the incumbents. The new members are Sherborne, McClintock and Livingstone Municipality trustee Marilyn Mace, Lutterworth Township trustee Cheryl Murdoch and Dysart et al Municipality trustees Derrell Stamp and Nancy Stinson.

The Board formed its committees for 1979 at its inaugural meeting.

Members of the Special Projects Committee are trustees Anderson, Johnson, Pickens, Salvatori and Ralph Young of Snowdon Township.

The Accounts Committee consists of Bicroft-Cardiff Township trustee Victoria Agnew, Dysart et al trustee Earl Cooper, Stanhope trustee Dorothy Kinsman, and trustee Mace.

The Retarded Children's Advisory Committee consists of trustee Anderson, Agnew and Stinson.

Trustee Kinsman is the lone member of the Sir Sandford Fleming Liaison Committee.

Trustee Salvatori is a director of the Ontario Public School Trustees' association with trustee Eager as an alternate.

Toronto residents charged with possession of hot car

Two Toronto residents have been charged with possession of stolen property by the Minden detachment of the Provincial police after information from a concerned citizen regarding a suspicious vehicle, stolen from the Toronto area, was received.

A 1975 model car was recovered in the Gooderham area on December 6. It had been stolen in Toronto on December 5. Charged are John M. Thomas, 21, of Pape Avenue and Robin S. McBride, 19, of Delaware Avenue.

Thomas was held in custody until a bail hearing at Lindsay last Monday. McBride is scheduled to appear in court February 13.

Provincial constables Bill Clendenning and Al Barnes investigated the occurrence.

Santa came to Wilberforce last Saturday to say hello to the local children and to help them make their minds up about their Christmas wishes. Here, Darren Lindsay gives the jolly old man a cheery grin as he tells Santa what he would like for Christmas.

Museum to be moved in 1979

The old Haliburton Pioneer Museum, which had been expected to be moved this fall to the site of the new museum at Glebe Park, will not be moved until next spring, revealed building committee chairman Gerry Dawson.

He said the committee had hopes of moving the museum, but decided to wait until spring because of the inconvenience disconnecting power lines would cause at this time of year to residents in Haliburton Village.

Construction on the new structure was completed in October. Work on the two-storey, 2,400-square-foot building began last May. The work was done by Mercon Construction of Bracebridge, who were awarded the contract earlier this year. Plans to build a new museum structure were revealed last January.

Wintario grants will cover 50 per cent of the total cost of $200,000, while the remaining half will be split evenly between the Municipality and the private sector.

Haliburton County council has given a $3,000 grant towards the cost, while the Rotary and Kinsmen Clubs have pledged $25,000 and $5,000 respectively.

Designed by architect Napier Simpson, the new structure cost a total of $130,000. The remaining $70,000 will be spent on outfitting the structure and site.

The official opening for the new museum is expected to be conducted next June.

Learning disabilities group formed in Haliburton County

A great liaison between doctors, parents and the Board of Education will be the main goal for the coming year for the newly-elected executive of the Haliburton County Chapter of the Ontario Association for Children with Learning Disabilities, advocates president Jack Hill.

"I would hope that we could get the chapter organized in such a way so that we can correlate what is available in the line of qualified help in the County," said Hill. "and establish some liaison between the doctors, educators and parents."

Hill made the statement following the election of the new executive committee for the chapter last Wednesday in Wilberforce. Only about 25 people showed up at the meeting, and Hill expressed disappointment at the turnout.

"At our last meeting, there were quite a few more here," he said.

The new executive will consist of Velma Smith as Vice-President, Yvonne Penney as Treasurer, Nancy Picard as Secretary, Linda Johnson as Publicity Officer, Joe Warder as Legislative Officer, Audrey Chambers as Information Officer, Dawn Brohman as Program Officer and Wilma Power will be the Volunteer Officer.

Haliburton resident injured in crash

An RR 1, Haliburton woman, Victoria Packard, 27, was taken to Haliburton hospital with a minor injury following a single car mishap last Thursday at 8:30 p.m. on Highway 121 between Minden and Haliburton.

Packard was eastbound when she lost control of her vehicle. The car entered the north ditch, rolled onto its side and struck a telephone pole.

Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $2,000. Provincial constable Boyd Jarvis investigated the accident.

A 19-year-old Minden woman, Jody L. Campbell, was charged with following too close after a two-car accident last Saturday at 2:45 p.m. on Highway 121 near Haliburton Village.

Raymond C. Cox, 54, of RR 1, Kimmount suffered minimal injury in the accident. He was eastbound, slowing to make a right turn when a car driven by Campbell, also eastbound, failed to see Cox due to the heavy snow falling in sufficient time to avoid collision, striking the rear of the Cox car.

Damage to the Campbell vehicle was estimated at $1,500, while the Cox car received $800 damage.

Provincial constable Bob Pearson investigated the mishap.

David L. McPhail, 38, of RR 1, Haliburton, was charged by Provincial police with failure to remain at the scene of a collision following a two-vehicle accident December 4 at 7:30 a.m. on Highway 35 at the Halls Lake area.

A vehicle driven by Peter Kanters, 54, of RR 1, Haliburton, was slowing to turn while northbound when another northbound vehicle driven by McPhail struck the rear of the Kanters car.

Damage to the Kanters vehicle was estimated at $450, while the McPhail vehicle received $300 damage.

The mishap was investigated by Provincial constable

A 19-year-old Minden woman, Jody L. Campbell, was charged with following too close after she hit a car with this vehicle Saturday afternoon. Damage to the Campbell car is estimated at $800.

Health minister approves spending $275,000

Province undertakes handicap study

Prompted by a consortium of the approximately 55 agencies, which support disabled people in Ontario, the Provincial Government has allotted $275,000 for a far-reaching study embracing the physically handicapped population in this Province. Health Minister Dennis Timbrell said today (Wednesday).

In a presentation to the government, the consortium finds that the planning of assistance programs would be greatly enhanced and the time, money and energy spent by the agencies would be more effective if there existed an information base of comprehensive, quantitative data on the disabled.

Timbrell said that at present there are only rough estimates of how many handicapped there are in the Province, how severe their handicap is and what their living circumstances are.

"The survey will provide an unprecedented overview of the extent of physical handicaps in Ontario," Timbrell said. "Focus will be on, not simply the underlying physical problems, but primarily on the actual problems of living, working and participating in the community, as reported by the handicapped themselves."

"Although a wide variety of voluntary agencies and government programs currently serve the apparent needs of the various handicapped groups, such as the blind, and paraplegics, it has been difficult to plan and develop services for these groups in an equitable and fair way. Without knowing the numbers and the extent of the handicaps, programs may tend to be directed to those groups which are more successful in having their problems aired.

Conference set for spring

Trent University's second annual "Canadian Images" conference, scheduled for early spring, will feature 160 hours of motion picture viewing, two symposia on motion pictures, three seminars of still photography and about 1,200 still photographs on exhibit. All will be open at no charge to the public.

The four-day conference will be held at Trent and at two downtown Peterborough theatres from March 29 to April 1.

The 1978 conference attracted, in its three days, some 9,000 viewers and used six movie theatres to show 140 hours of film.

Trent's Canadian Studies program, host for the event, plans that "Canadian Images" will become a national annual event.

Participating in the symposia and seminars will be a number of nationally-known film-makers, photographers and policymakers. Motion picture symposia will deal with the state of the industry

"We need a common body of information to lessen the difficulty of planning service programs. It is expected that this research will provide a basis for sound and imaginative programming," Timbrell said.

The work, to be completed by July, 1980, will be done by Boston, Gilbert and Henry Associates in conjunction with Steven Levy Associates, who submitted one of six bids received from Ontario researchers.

Husband and wife collide snowmobiling

Damage was estimated at $500 when a husband and wife collided with each other while snowmobiling in Dysart et al Municipality on a snow vehicle trail last Sunday at 9:15 p.m.

A snowmobile operated by Betty Grant of Haliburton was northbound when she rounded a curve and stopped. A second northbound snow machine operated by her husband Ronald Grant rounded the curve and struck his wife's snow machine.

Damage to the wife's snow machine was estimated at $400, while her husband's snowmobile received $100 damage.

Provincial constable Barry Connelly investigated the mishap.

Anson, Hindon and Minden Council held their inaugural meeting yesterday and several people attended to see how the new council operated. Reeve Sinc Nesbitt (at head of table) said in his opening speech to the gathering to "please not stand around in the streets and condemn the council. If you've got a problem, come and see us." Also, gathered around the table are, beginning from extreme left, (going counterclockwise), Reeve Doug Pritchard, councillor Len Lonsberry, Councillor Lyle McKnight, and newcomer councillor Stuart Brandon.

Pedestrian fatalities increasing in Ontario

Ontario's nine-month statistics for 1978 show "a shocking increase" in pedestrian fatalities, said Minister of Transportation and Communications James Snow. Pedestrian deaths rose from 172 in the first nine months of 1977 to 193 in 1978, an increase of 12.2 per cent.

"I'm very concerned about this shocking increase in pedestrian deaths," said Snow, "because it indicates both drivers and pedestrians are ignoring the rules of the road."

Throughout his lifetime he practiced the ideals of Rotary. Service before self was his motto both in Rotary and in the community in general and he has been greatly missed by us all. The presentation was made by Secretary Bob Morrow and gratefully accepted by Mrs. Robertson.

Christmas Seals drawn by Quebec artist Raymond Boyer

Christmas is for children and, with this in mind, Vancouver artist Raymond Boyer, with fond memories of a Quebec childhood, transposed those never-to-be-forgotten days into the theme of the 1978 Christmas Seals.

For three of the Christmas Seals, it was children dancing around the yuletide tree, skiing and playing hockey. For the fourth, he chose a more contemporary approach using the Little Drummer Boy whose gift was small but worked miracles, symbolic of the objectives of the Christmas Seal Campaign.

Since 1908, Christmas Seals have been used by the Lung Associations in Canada to raise funds for their fight against lung disease. This year the Seals will be mailed to more than 7-million Canadian homes.

For Raymond Boyer, designing the 1978 Seals was a highlight in his career as an artist, a career which began 31 years ago in Vancouver. Boyer was born in Montreal, the twin son of Hermine and Joachim Boyer, an engraver. He received his early education at St-Laurent College in Montreal, specializing in arts and English. In 1945, the family moved to Vancouver where he continued his education, again taking a special interest in art.

He commenced his career as an artist with Mann Lithograph in Vancouver as an apprentice, studying both commercial art and lithographic printing.

Boyer became a journeyman artist in 1952 and commenced work with Farwest Lithograph, now a subsidiary of Southam Press, at the same time attending night school classes at the Vancouver School of Art.

In 1968, he became an instructor for evening sessions at Vancouver's Graphic Arts Institute and in 1973 was appointed Assistant Director. He has been its Director since June of 1976.

Boyer's career has embraced every segment of the art field, designing annual reports, brochures, sports publications, trademarks and even indulging from time to time in cartooning.

His submission in the competition to design the Canadian flag earned him honorable mention.

His hobby of designing and silk-screening personal

Dysart et al Council held its inaugural meeting Monday. The new council, which remains the same as last year, consists of, clockwise, Councillor Roy Brohm, Deputy-reeve Harold Bannon, Reeve Murray Fearley, Can't I Learn' was shown to those present, and a brief discussion was held afterward. Jim Milne, chairman for the nominating committee which selected the candidates, said that he felt "encouraged" when he found out how many persons were interested in becoming involved in the chapter.

"There were quite a few people who were very interested but couldn't help us out this year," said Milne.

After the elections, Hill spoke to the gathering about the chapter's plans in the upcoming year.

Hill said that he felt Haliburton County "should take a back seat to no one" in terms of learning disabilities assistance. Hill also expressed concern for "those children who have passed from the public school system into the secondary school system."

"I feel very strongly about this. We have got to work through co-operation, not confrontation between the school board and the parents."

Another aim for the chapter, added Hill, is to begin fund-raising drives after the organization receives a charter designating it a charitable organization. He also said a membership drive will be implemented in the new year.

Concerning the action being taken for children with learning disabilities in the schools, Hill stated that "we don't have to apologize for what we've done. The Board of Education is to be congratulated for their work."

A new meeting for the organization is expected to take place early in the new year, when the executive will officially take over the chapter.

Participate in Canada's Employment Tax Credit Program.

The Employment Tax Credit Program was introduced by the Government of Canada to stimulate employment in the private sector.

In essence, we're encouraging you to expand your work force by providing a tax break for your business.

The potential annual tax credit for each new employee is over $3,000. And there is no limit to the number of new employees you can hire.

Now, by using the experience we've gained so far, we've changed the program to make it even more attractive.

Up to 33% more tax credit.

The maximum term for the tax credit has been increased from nine to 12 months for each new employee. That means up to 33% more tax credit.

Greater eligibility.

We have expanded the number and types of businesses eligible to benefit. Now almost every business that's been operating in Canada for a year or more can join in.

Wider choice of new employees.

Now, almost anyone who's unemployed and registered at a Canada Employment Centre for a minimum of two weeks is eligible.

A minimum of red tape.

We've simplified the procedure, so you can do the whole thing, from beginning to end, with just two single-page forms.

For full details on the program, contact any Canada Employment Centre/Canada Manpower Centre.

The elements of Christmas ...

The Christmas season has once again descended upon Haliburton County.

The store fronts on the main streets of our towns and villages are lit with glimmering displays. People have smiles on their faces, and are cordial and friendly as they walk along these streets carrying mounds of parcels and boxes. And once in a while, along a stretch of highway, you'll see a car parked alongside, their occupants out in the bush searching for a Christmas tree with which to brighten up their home.

All this preparation and motivation celebrating the birth of Jesus Christ did not come by accident. These customs are carried over from other times and civilizations. For years, hundreds of other countries and nationalities have prepared for and celebrated Christmas in ways that would seem perhaps somewhat surprising to North Americans.

In fact, the keeping of Christmas over the years has origins far from the image of Christ. The December date selected for the birth of Christ was pre-Christian. The time originally marked the time of year when the sun again gains strength. No one factually knows the exact date that Christ was born on, and some scholars are even divided as to his original birthplace. And the Church of Rome did not begin the December festival as Christian until the middle of the fourth century.

But the time of celebration is not of great importance, and all Christian religions generally contend that the symbolic presence and goodness of Christ is of more importance than any factual dating.

According to a book by William Sanson entitled 'A Book of Christmas', "the image of a newborn child is a rather more appealing symbol of new life than a sacrificial huddle of smoking limbs."

But where do the legends and customs which we now associate with Christmas come from? Why do we here, in North-Central Ontario look forward to a white Christmas, while those of us living in Florida during the winter months do not?

One can see that the answer to this question and others can only be offered through the origins of our own customs. We have little idea of where the Christmas tree comes from, who Santa Claus is, and why turkey is a traditional Christmas dinner fowl.

The Christmas Tree

Probably one of the most exciting events prior to Christmas day is the erecting and trimming of the Christmas tree. The custom is now nearly universal, but began from an old German legend.

The legend says that from time to time, over the centuries, folk have seen, on Christmas Eve, a single tree in the dark winter forest in full bloom. The tree is glowing with light, with a beautiful child sitting in its branches.

Santa Claus?

"The blossoming tree is humanity; the shining lights are good men, and the Child is the Savior," explained a pope when asked to comment on the vision. Today the tree, covered with decorations, paper flowers, electric lights or candy and fruits is a traditional reminder of the brilliant vision seen in the German forests from time to time.

Mistletoe

And what Haliburton home would be complete for Christmas without the mistletoe? The Golden Bough of legend, as it is traditionally called, has its roots in pre-Christian times.

The ancient Scandinavians were awed by the plant's spirit, as it was supposed to have killed the sun-god, Baldr the Beautiful. The plant's name also was All-heal, as it was used to cure many sicknesses. The plant then came to be known as the plant of peace, beneath which enemies became friends.

It is this last use which led to our present custom of kissing under the mistletoe. The tradition has persisted through the centuries, and especially in England, where mistletoe became, until Victorian times, the centre of Christmas celebrations during the 12 days of Christmas.

Santa Claus

Overshadowing all of these legends is the conception of Santa Claus. We in North America have invented his red arctic clothing, and he is derived from the mid-nineteenth-century Dutch influence in the United States. He has been called a "mixed-up version of St. Nicholas of Myra", with his date moved forward from the traditional sixth of December (his birthday) to Christmas Eve.

Father Christmas, as he is also called, wore a wreath of holly above his large, bearded face. In Europe, the main gift-bearer is St. Nicholas on his Saint's Day of December 6. Nicholas himself was a Bishop of Myra in Asia Minor in the fourth century. It is said that on Mediterranean voyages, he created and stopped many bad storms, and became the patron saint of the sailors.

Legend says that he is also the patron saint of maidens, since it is said that he once saved three daughters of a poor father from probable prostitution by giving each a quantity of gold for a dowry with which to marry. It is through these and other tales of St. Nicholas that he achieved his generosity status.

The name 'Santa Claus' actually came from Thomas Nast, who was an illustrator in Harper's Illustrated Weekly of 1863. He had drawn a figure mentioned in Dr. Clement Clarke Moore's poem 'The Visit of St. Nicholas', later to be renamed 'The Night Before Christmas'. Moore had originally written the poem as a Christmas treat for his own children, but the public immediately took it to their heart.

The sleigh and reindeer Moore mentioned in his poem had originated in another magazine article written around the early 1800's. Washington Irving had told of the flight of St. Nick in a wagon in 1809. But with snow in December, the wagon became a sleigh for Santa's convenience.

The English version of Santa Claus wears a large hood with white fur lined around. Here in Canada, we stick to the more modern version of the American Santa Claus; a red pointed cap with a white ball sitting on top. Too, the British Santa wears a long robe, while the North American version is attired in a two-piece furry red suit lined with white cotton.

Santa Claus, as we all know, arrives by chimney in Haliburton County, and indeed, in the rest of North America. In Holland and Spain, being seafaring countries, the Saint arrives by ship. In Amsterdam, he arrives also by boat fully dressed in his saint's clothing to the music of the brass bands, mounts his white horse and is welcomed by the Queen at her palace.

In Germany, the gift-bringer is the Christ Child. In Italy, the old woman Befana (Epiphany) is gift-giving on the eve of the sixth of January and the Three Kings bear gifts in Spain. And some of these gift-bearers are accompanied by a dark devil figure, or a dark side of their own nature, to question children as to their past behaviour and give out punishment to the bad and gifts only for the good.

Christmas Cards

Most Haliburton residents probably already have their Christmas card lists compiled and are already sending cards out. This happy custom originated in the Victorian ages in England.

Neighbours had always exchanged good wishes at Christmas and the New Year, but it took the development of a more efficient postal system to spread these wishes to friends and relatives in other towns and villages. Eventually, this became a little more for even the most agile writer, and consequently, in the 1840's, the first Christmas card was made. Prior to this, there had been writing paper decorated with Christmas themes, but these too, were not suitable enough for the uses intended for them.

In 1843, it was the innovative John Calcott Horsley who came up with the first card. It had been drawn at the request of Sir Henry Cole, an energetic reformer who wanted to save time in sending out his Christmas greeting messages. As a result, not more than a thousand copies of the card was sold at one shilling a copy.

The published cards were not immediately popular, however. It wasn't until the mid-1860's that commercial production of the cards began, and after that, better printing techniques coupled with a more accepting society and better postal service saw the Christmas card sell. Today, the number of cards printed annually run into the thousands of millions.

Christmas Dinner

And what about the delicious turkey dinner on Christmas day? Well, the turkey is simply another substitute for an earlier Victorian dish of peacock. It was a specially prized holiday dish and was brought into the dining room with much ceremony. Sometimes the bird was entirely covered with leaf-gold and was stuffed with spices and herbs. Pigs were also eaten in earlier times.

In Germany and elsewhere, the goose became the traditional Christmas head dish. England also accepted the goose for a considerable period of time as the most popular Christmas dish. The turkey actually appeared when the Spanish brought some of them back from the New World as gifts from the Aztecs of Mexico to Spain.

It arrived in the Spanish Netherlands and thus tantalized Britons after it prospered in England's Holland of East Anglia.

In America, the turkeys ran wild in flocks and there was much turkey shooting, and soon the bird superseded the goose in Christmas head dish popularity.

It has been traditional to select fairly heavy turkeys for the holiday feast. A turkey ranging in size from 15 to 25 pounds is considered middle to heavy weight today. But wild turkeys hunted in America during the Victorian ages were said to have run up to 40 pounds. That's a lot of post-Christmas turkey sandwiches!

Snow

Most Highland residents would probably come to agreement that snow really makes a Christmas season something special. The thought of a soft snowfall on Christmas Eve has always been an attractive one in those countries where December marks the beginning of a cold and snowy winter.

Snow to Canadians and northern Europeans alike have become synonymous with Christmas.

The thought of being nestled inside a warm home with family and friends while the snow falls outside on Christmas Eve, said some noted scholars on the subject during the Victorian period, gives us a feeling of warmth and love to those around us. The feeling is a pleasurable one, and thus, snow becomes directly connected with the pleasurable experience. But after Christmas is over, wait and see how long snow remains a pleasurable element of winter!

Christmas Carols

The Christmas carol had to become accepted as a regular celebrated element of Christmas.

So these customs, legends and histories are what Christmas is all about? Perhaps. Author William Sanson described of Christmas that, "A main purpose of the whole show is to make life as it is usually lived stop for a bit."

In celebrating, the birth of Jesus Christ, is it really important in the way the event is celebrated? Is not the importance of Christmas that we all stop, take time out from our regular duties, and become observers of peace and goodwill toward each other? The answer lies in author Sanson's testimony to Christmas:

'a serious motive made
convivial by people'

developed in the first place as a popularity understood Nativity song, as compared with church hymns, which were usually sung in Latin. In the 16th and 17th centuries, the carols were discouraged and literally disappeared over the next 200 years.

In 1822, Davies Gilbert published a successful collection of Christmas carols, and this was followed by a general renewed interest in the songs. During this time, new carols were written and constantly circulated throughout England. Soon, the influence was spread into America where 'O Little Town of Bethlehem' had been written. All in all, it took about 50 years for the carol

"On the whole, Christmas has been happy, and, however much the adult hours may have been wearied by ever greater efforts of present-buying, the day or days themselves tend to measure up to the intention. In a way they are like weddings - a serious motive made convivial by people trying to be pleasant and dressed up to celebrate life."

Ontario weather forecast: drifting snow, icy patches and reduced visibility during the Holiday Season.

That's why you must be in good condition to drive under these conditions.

Winter driving. For drivers this is the most dangerous season. Conditions change without warning. The dry road you're on now can quickly become treacherous at the next bend in the road... ice patches, frost, sudden snow squalls, even wet leaves create unexpected hazards. But during the Holiday Season these hazards tend to increase.

Poor visibility combined with heavy traffic throughout the Holiday Season means you must be in good condition to drive under these conditions. So must your car. So keep it in good repair. And keep yourself alert at all times. If you drink, don't drive. And always watch out for the other drivers. Assume there's trouble ahead even when conditions look safe. Help make sure you and your family will be here to enjoy another great Ontario Holiday Season.

Taxpayer interest

Over the next two years, taxpayers in Haliburton County should watch closely the dealings of the municipal councils and the board of education to make sure they are doing the job the voters elected them to carry out.

Interest in municipal government does not end on election day and begin again two years later. Municipal government is a constant on-going process and the taxpayers interest should also be on-going.

With most inaugural meetings in the County completed, it is time for councils and the school board to get down to business and live up to their mandate for the next 24 months.

Municipal government is our most important governing body because it allows taxpayers close contact with municipal politicians. It is the beginning of our whole democratic process and the backbone of our political system. It is from the municipal level that everything begins and in most cases appears to end.

If taxpayers disagree with the decisions or direction of their councils or school board, it is their duty and privilege to express their views personally before the body or write a letter to it.

The direction and progress of a Municipality or County depends greatly on the type of municipal politicians running the operation. Taxpayers can assist in that direction by working hand in hand with the politicians and expressing their desires in a realistic manner.

Your councils and school board over the next two years will be making decisions which effect every resident of Haliburton County.

In these decisions, these public bodies should provide the best possible services to the taxpayers within the framework of the process and monetary restraint.

The job of our elected officials, especially at the municipal level, is a difficult one and an interested representative or group of taxpayers can provide the elected representative with an accurate barometer to help him make his or her decisions in meeting the needs and desires of the public at large. The new members of councils and school board will quickly learn it is not always an easy task getting things done for the Municipality or County. Taxpayers should also be aware of the restrictions of the task and should be prepared to offer assistance and understanding when necessary.

More participation by the taxpayers of the municipalities of Haliburton County will benefit each municipality individually and the County as a whole.

After all it is your tax dollars and you should be concerned where it is spent over the next two years.

Participation

More participation, especially by parents, is needed if the newly-formed Haliburton County chapter of the Ontario Association for Children with Learning Disabilities is going to develop into an effective organization.

Interest in the group appears to be minimal with only 25 persons attending a meeting last Wednesday to start the organization moving.

The new executive, which consists of President Jack Hill, Vice-President Velma Smith, Treasurer Yvonne Penney, Secretary Nancy Picard, Publicity Officer Linda Johnson, Legislative Officer Joe Warder, Information Officer Audrey Chambers, Program Officer Dawn Brohman and Volunteer Officer Wilma Powers, will have a large task facing them to generate interest in the new group.

Interested individuals have been working behind the scenes since September to get an organization formed in Haliburton County.

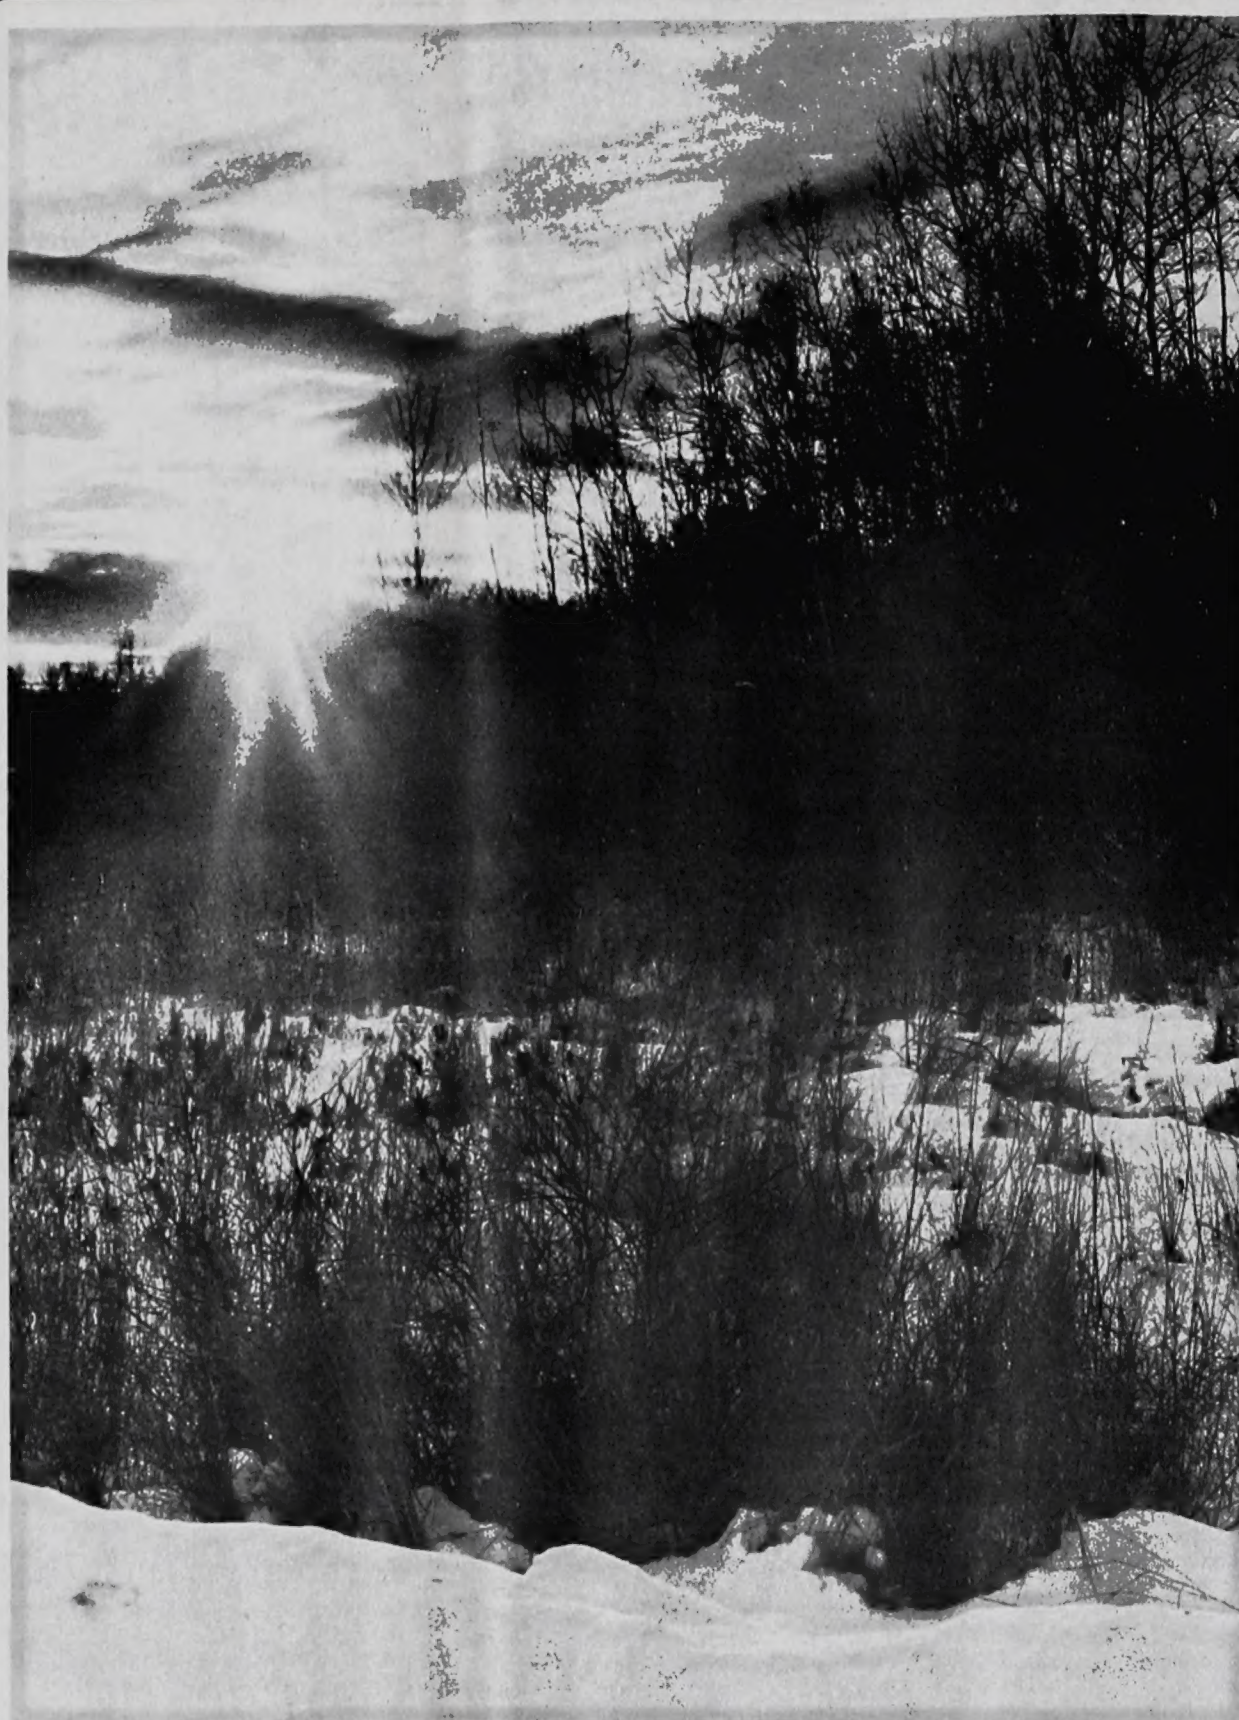

Children who are called lazy, indifferent or undisciplined or who have unusual difficulty with mathematics or communication subjects are often not problem children, but rather children with problems, according to literature from the Ontario organization.

The organization needs more interest from parents who can spot problems easier with their children than anyone else.

Many of these children are now being recognized as having specific learning difficulties which can be helped.

More parents participating in the learning disabilities group would make it a more complete and effective organization, which could help children who are suffering under this handicap.

The group has been formed, now it is up to the parents in Haliburton County to make it work for the benefit of the children with learning disabilities in the County.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

Your editorial about the health care in Haliburton County is of concern to Minden residents. Most people feel the "Role Study" recommendations for Minden are helpful in some ways, but very unrealistic in many other respects.

We already have an excellent medical clinic in Minden, so we do not need the hospital to be converted to a "clinic facility". The hospital is doing a fine job for the people at the present time. To take away from "in-patient" services would be a great detriment to our community.

Extra facilities such as physiotherapy and a nutritionist would, undoubtedly, be welcomed. However, this should be "as well as" what we have and not "instead of".

A point of information - the Minden hospital does not need expensive improvements. For example, the hospital does not have piped oxygen. Information from a reliable source indicates that the hospital does not need piped oxygen, and that the oxygen cylinders presently in use are quite adequate. It is apparent that such improvements as are needed could well be done inexpensively.

Your editorial states that "residents in Minden ... will benefit with the new role for their hospital."

It appears obvious from the remark that no serious consideration was given to the situation with respect to the overall impact that would result to the Minden community, and community as a whole, if we are deprived of the hospital-patient facility - inconvenience at best, possible cost of lives at worst (if people were forced to travel long distances along difficult roads especially in winter. The economical factor involved has a direct bearing to this community. Without the full operation of the Minden hospital, the unemployment factor would add to an already increasingly high unemployment rate; reducing the income and spending power of our community.

Resident of Minden

To The Editor:

I read with interest your article about Mrs. Winnifred Bedlington. Besides her talent as a writer she was very gifted in music. Some time in the early years of 1900 my mother, who was Cora Rogers, took piano lessons from this lady.

To do this, she walked about two and a half miles each way from the farm, which is now owned by Holly and Diane Stevens, to the home of Mrs. Bedlington, which is located near our present doctor's office. It was then known as Cliff Cottage, much later it was used as a tea room and called Tea Kettle Inn. Mother served as church organist for many years and also gave piano lessons to a class of young people of whom I was one.

Mrs. Al Barron was also one of her pupils. In 1930, a severe stroke ended my mother's career in music, but not her interest in it. Thanks to Mrs. Bedlington's interest and my mother's talent, music has always been an important part of our life.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Phil Robinson,
Minden, Ontario.

To The Editor:

I refer to your line in the December 6 issue of The Echo regarding the train tracks.

The railway is now history. You live in a village setting almost beyond compare, serenely located by a lake and surrounded by picturesque hills.

At one time, the present road was ample, but today is something else. The volume of traffic calls for drastic improvement. Re-locate your rail terminal below Highway 519, pick up the tracks

Editor's Notebook by Gord Lavoie

Squash is a game which demands concentration, skill and some luck. I tried it for the very first time in my life last Saturday and found it very enjoyable. Local bank manager John Schonhoffer agreed to introduce me to the game and explain the basics required to play before we tried a few rounds. I have played a little tennis in the past, but found that experience did not help me much for squash. The game is an excellent means of becoming better physically fit and yet enjoying it at the same time.

I found the ball to be quite small. It was much smaller than I had expected. The racquet is also smaller than a tennis or badminton racquet, which makes the game an interesting challenge to a beginner. It appeared I had the ball lined up to play it back to my opponent, when I reached out to hit it, I missed.

I should regress for a moment for those, like me, who have never played squash. I was told basically the object of the game is serve the ball off the back wall of the squash court. It must strike the wall about 18 inches above the floor and when serving should first hit above a red line about six feet up the wall.

At first, serving proved very difficult because I consistently hit the ball out of play and thus lost my service. John proved a patient teacher and allowed me to keep practicing my serve.

We played a few games and I found it demanding to concentrate on the ball and not be caught out of position on the court when your opponent served.

From a physical fitness point of view, I think it is an excellent sport for conditioning the heart and lungs. Although I am the greenest of rookies to the sport, I hope to continue to play it again. It is a game which can fulfill both requirements of enjoyment and physical fitness.

Squash is a relatively new sport, but a very fast growing one. It is expected over the next few years it will be one of the most popular. I am glad I tried it to find out what it is like to play. It was well worth the venture. But I am not so sure my poor, old body is as anxious to try it again.

We seem to have a disease here in Haliburton County which appears to cause some people a great deal of suffering. This new disease is known as "jealously". If it gets bad enough, it's just like a cancer. It would appear that if anyone is the least bit progressive or tries to get ahead, they seem to appear right on the top of the hate list. It is a sin to hate anyone and these small minded people who hate to see anyone get ahead seem to make it a practice to try to knock them down in any way they can. We are sick, sore and tired of these small town, childish antics and bickering. It's fine to go to church on Sunday, but what really counts is how you live the other six days of the week. It's fine to spend our time on good, faithful criticism, but it's just about time that some people started to live a Christian life and instead of knocking people down, they should spend their time picking them up.

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police have been really cracking down on all the drivers who aren't wearing their seat belts. For the past two weeks, they have been making spot checks at various locations and we noticed that they were really checking the motorists near LaRue Motors Limited in Haliburton on November 30. A word to the wise. If you haven't been using your seat belts well it's just about time that you started to buckle up. Everyone knows the law, so if you're caught it's for your own good so don't start kicking if you have to pay a fine. As far as I am personally concerned I was against wearing seat belts when the law first came out, but now I don't feel safe unless I am buckled up.

Just the other day, I received a Christmas card from Al and Ruth Grier and family, who now reside in Victoria, British Columbia. Each Christmas they always write me a short letter on the card and I am always thrilled to hear from them. When I owned the Haliburton County Echo and Al Grier was the owner of the Minden Progress, We always worked together in harmony. Although we were in opposition to each other, we struck up a wonderful friendship that has carried on through the years. I can always remember when Al first purchased the Progress. He wasn't in Minden very long until he phoned me and stated that he was the new owner of the Progress and that as far as we were concerned we had two ways to go. One way was that we could become enemies or we could work together to help each other out in an act of co-operation. I immediately said that as far as I was concerned I would like to see us work together and this is just what we did. We helped each other out whenever the need arose and I can always remember the good times we had together and the many laughs we shared.

We notice in Minden that Christmas decorations have been put up on the poles in the business section. They look very nice but more could be done to make it look more attractive. Up to this point in the business section of Haliburton, there is nothing in the form of Christmas decorations. It would be nice to see both villages with their main streets with Christmas lights and decorations along the line of what has been done in the past on Kent Street in Lindsay.

We have all been talking lately of the fact that if we are to have an all year round economy here in the Highlands of Haliburton that a good start toward this goal would be to promote winter business. A good start has been made but from what we can understand the people are coming back but that we are lacking in accommodation. A friend of mine was telling me just the other day that some friends of his came to Haliburton last winter for a winter weekend of entertainment and sports but that they had to go back home due to the lack of accommodation. I was always under the impression that several of the resorts were now winterized but apparently this is not the case. If we can't provide the accommodation for these people how can we expect them to come back. Possibly someone can fill me in on this subject. I would certainly be glad to hear from you.

I thought that I had heard everything until on a recent trip to Minden I was listening to the radio when one of the disc jockeys was reading off a news item which stated that at a zoo in the United States, they found out to their surprise that the monkeys enjoyed watching television. The end result is that they are seriously considering putting some TV sets in the cages. I think that we would all have to agree that this sounds really crazy and it makes one wonder if all the monkeys are in the zoo.

Just recently the Ministry of Transportation and Communications made some major changes on the Highway 35 by-pass at Minden. They did a wonderful job on the curbing and widening the highway out to make it four lanes. What we cannot understand is after spending thousands of dollars on this project why they had to make such a mess of the exit ramp and hill at the junction of Highways 35 and 121. If the highway is the least bit slippery following a snow storm, it is very difficult, after leaving the exit ramp that leads to the hill going to Haliburton, to get up enough speed to get to the top. It is my opinion, and that of many of the citizens in Minden that instead of improving this exit and approach to the hill, it is now worse than it was before. The exit ramp should be improved to cut down the angle and the crown of the hill should be cut down to make this hill a little easier to navigate on.

In our November 22 issue of The Echo, in a news story we carried a story about the Haliburton Area Radio Club disbanding. In speaking with Phil Graham he informed me that some of our readers were under the opinion that the Amateur Radio Club in Minden also disbanded. We would like to inform our readers that the radio club in Minden is alive and well and will continue to be very active in the future.

I am going to close the column this week with a short word of wisdom taken from The Highland Rotooter, the weekly bulletin of the Rotary Club of Haliburton. "Men are born with two eyes and one tongue in order that they may see twice as much as they say."

From the Chamber

Reporting From The Highlands

Arrangements have been completed for Chamber director Bruce Henry to participate regularly on the Betty Thompson Show on C.K.C.O. TV Channel 11. Bruce's taped interviews with Betty will highlight coming events in our area along with their ultimate success and other features of interest to the general public. The information Bruce is submitting will be provided by the Chamber office, and is therefore one more good reason to keep the Chamber well informed on your up and coming events. Through features such as this and other regular news releases to the news media, the Chamber endeavours to continually promote any function in the County that we are made aware of.

Dave Chatfield, our resident sales representative for C.K.C.O. TV, is now also a free lance news stringer reporting not only on C.K.C.O. but also on C.K.V.R. TV, C.H.A.Y. - F.M., and C.H.E.X. radio and T.V. Call Dave at 457-2964 to advise him of newsworthy coming events and items.

New In Business

Paul Pilon has sold the Bonaventure Store and Marina at Moore's Falls. New owners Don and Shirley Harrison and Tom and Carol Thompson take over the beginning of May and to help them with their ambitious plans each couple has the assistance of two children coming with them. The Thompsons' and Harrisons' are from the Toronto area, and we wish them much success with their new venture in the Highlands.

Bob Bishop was pleased to advise us that James Orr and Peter Ross have purchased the lodge at Sir Sam's Inn. It is hoped that the lodge will be fully operational and re-opened by the end of January. Peter is a recent graduate in hotel management, and James along with a B.A. in Economics has had some considerable resort experience. They have many plans to add to the already considerable facilities and we certainly wish them well. It is certainly good news to have this historic landmark once again operating to compliment the busy ski slopes operating at Sir Sam's.

A change may not be obvious at the Shamrock Shell Centre because new owner Ross Mark has been managing the station for the past four years for Tim and Dennis Casey. Ross will be continuing to build on a well deserved reputation for prompt and courteous service and we wish him all the best.

Last but by no means least is the fact that the County Progress is now being published by Stamron Holdings which in turn is Grenville Stamp and Ron Gambell. Grenville adds this business interest to his two successfully operated laundromats, while Ron is presently established in the used car business and, of course, is beginning a term as reeve of the Municipality of Lutterworth. Good luck to both of them.

More Tournaments

The Highlands Squash Club tells us that next Saturday they will be hosting their first tournament in their new facilities. The Haliburton Kinsmen Club are hosting the tournament during the morning and in the afternoon it is a club affair identified as the Christmas handicap finals for men and women. Next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the Ladies Provincial play downs for Southern Ontario Ladies Curling Association are being held at the Haliburton Curling Club.

The Minden Rotary Club's Pee-wee International tournament is scheduled for December 28 and 29 and they are in need of families to billet out of town hockey players overnight. Anyone willing to help is urged to call Leroy Nesbitt at 286-1771 or Stephanie Wells at 286-2864.

The south approach to the village is inspiring until one hits the railway tracks, then it is an experience. Also 519 should be diverted to use the railway right-of-way from the junction of 121 for a short distance.

Let's look beyond our noses and plan a convenience for the next hundred years.

Yours truly,

Bill Smiley

Not many of you readers have attended one of the many wedding ceremonies of Elizabeth Taylor, right? You and I don't exactly travel with that jet set crowd, right?

Well, you're wrong. I recently attended one of the marriages of Elizabeth Taylor. And I didn't crash it; I was invited. And I hope it's the only one she ever has. It was her first.

No, no. Not that fat, beautiful, silly Elizabeth Taylor, the movie star, who by now has pledged to love, honor and obey, in sickness and in health, until death do them part, about six or seven guys.

I mean the real Elizabeth Taylor, Lix, the kid who was a close buddy of my daughter Kim from about Grade 5 on, whom I taught in Grade 10 and Grade 12, who became somewhat of a second daughter to us when her mother died, who dropped in to the Smileys' every vacation home from college to regale us with her ups and downs.

She's now a young Phys. Ed. teacher, and a darn good one, I daresay, because she's always been a good athlete, and has had a way with kids since her camp counsellor days. She's also now a young bride, and I take this opportunity of wishing her a happy married life. I could scarcely get near enough at the wedding to say it, so many guys wanted to kiss her.

Usually, I hate weddings, and avoid them whenever possible. But I enjoyed this one. The church service was a mixture of traditional Anglican and swinging modern, with a mod choir playing guitars and belting out the Word in close harmony.

My old lady and I were so moved that we actually went up and took communion for the first time in years. Even more unusual, my daughter joined us.

Great reception afterward: free bar, magnificent roast beef dinner, good and brief toasts, and a party afterward with dancing for the young Turks, of whom there seemed to be many.

It must have cost her old man a small fortune. He's two down, and only one daughter left to marry off, out of the three of them.

But you must wonder why I hate weddings. Most men do. Why? Mainly because of the women involved. And I don't mean the bride or the bride's maids, or the brides's mother or aunts. I mean one's own women-folk.

As long as two months before the wedding, they start panicking. They have a feeling that they will be the cynosure of all eyes, even though they know in their hearts that all eyes will be on the bride.

There are infinitely lengthy and ineffably boring talks about what to wear to the wedding. Sensible women will drag out that long gown they wore to the Christmas dance last year and wear it. But I don't have any of those. Not long gowns. Sensible women.

It must be something new and striking. This results in one of two things: ever more agitated shopping excursions, as the big day nears; or, if your wife sews, as mine does, ever more frantic searching for material, sewing and ripping, tears and anger and frustration and, finally, triumph. At which point the hapless male, who is merely going to wear his good suit and shine his shoes, is expected to rapturize over the "creation". By the hour.

I swear my wife was working on the final touch, a white hat that looks like a longshoreman's cap, until two hours before we took off for the wedding.

This time it was more complicated. She also had to improvise an outfit for daughter Kim. The latter is not sensible in the opposite way. She's turned up at a formal wedding in a turtle-neck sweater, ragged jeans, and sandals. Bringing along her husband, who would arrive in a sweater with the elbow out, even more ragged jeans, and work boots.

You can see the predicament my old lady was in. She not only had to get herself looking like the Queen of Sheba, but she had to get her daughter's outfit lined up, including the loan of shoes and make-up, ensure that Kim's Don wore something decent, and choose the shirt and tie I'd wear. Tough.

Another reason I hate weddings is the cost. That one set me back about $200, minimum. About 30 bucks for long-distance calls, discussing who'd wear what. Another 40 for gifts. (My wife was unable to make the shower for the bride, so had to take a shower gift plus a wedding gift). Eighty bucks for motel rooms. Yeah, I got stuck for two of them, plus cots for the grandboys. Twelve bucks for snacks (nobody else seemed to have any money). Twelve bucks for the baby-sitter, who told us rather tightly that they were the worst kids that she ever baby-sat. Another 10 for gas and oil. Another five for tips. And lordy, lordy knows how much my wife spent on the material for her outfit.

One more reason I hate weddings. They always in-

Report from Queens Park

by MPP John Eakins

A speech made by the recently appointed Minister of Correctional Services to an audience in Welland has given rise to considerable controversy. He proposed a scheme called "workfare" as a possible replacement for provincial and municipal welfare. "Simply put," he said, "workfare would require all able-bodied recipients to undertake a designated number of hours of useful community work as a condition of welfare. Of course, the scheme would be voluntary. Any healthy individual who chose not to participate would be struck from the welfare rolls." He suggested that if 80 per cent of welfare recipients each worked 20 hours a week, the province would receive 3 million hours of community work a week in return for its $554 million annual expenditure on welfare payments.

The Minister was strongly criticized in the Legislature about this speech, which was characterized as outrageous, inflammatory and idiotic.

My leader, Stuart Smith, charged that the speech cast a slur upon welfare recipients. The reaction of the Minister of Community and Social Services was described as "closer to the opposition's than to that of his Cabinet colleague's." He said the Minister's figures were inaccurate, and that only 12.5 per cent of Ontario's welfare recipients are considered as employable. He, in fact, repudiated his cabinet colleague's proposal to put able-bodied welfare recipients to work on community projects, and told the Legislature that work-for-welfare is not government policy and, isn't about to become government policy. He rejected the Minister of Correctional Services' proposal that welfare recipients should be doing such jobs as shovelling snow, picking up litter, helping in floods and other community emergencies, and relieving police at crossing guard duties. His approach is to help people who are capable of working to get back into the regular labour force. "I think that approach is much more positive," he said.

Recently there was considerable publicity about gasoline leaking from a local gas station into the water-table and wells in the community of Port Loring, South-West of North Bay. Apparently, the Ministry of the Environment has been aware of this situation since September 1977, but has taken no effective action. The people of Port Loring do not yet have an unpolluted water supply system, and are forced to carry water from a new communal well.

In this connection, the Minister of the Environment has stated that the Provincial Government intends to force polluters to clean up or the province will do the job and bill them for costs. His plan is to introduce a bill before the Legislature recesses, to leave it on the Order Paper over the winter break, and to bring it back for debate when the Legislature reconvenes in the spring. In his view, such legislation "would allow us to get into the situation, clean it up and let the chips fall where they may". The Minister's idea is that the government should finance a new compensation fund, and after the pollution has been cleaned up, go after the polluters to make them foot the bill.

The Ontario Government has introduced legislation which would allow pituitary glands to be removed during autopsies. This amendment to the Coroners Act would allow the gland to be kept for preparation of an extract which corrects a hormone deficiency which causes dwarfism in children. The Attorney-General told the House that the legislation, if it became law, would help between 100 and 200 Ontario children.

Constituents concerned over film

Bill Scott, Victoria-Haliburton, MP reports that several hundred concerned constituents from the Victoria-Haliburton area have contacted him in recent weeks concerning the reputed pornographic film "The Many Faces of Jesus."

While some officials question whether or not this film actually exists, Scott has been keeping an eye on the situation since it was first brought to his attention a number of months ago. The matter was first introduced into the House of Commons by way of Standing Order 43 on the 9th of March and in the following weeks was re-introduced on

Nine players not signed, Madoc juniors floundering

by Joe Banks

The Madoc Junior 'D' team, members of the same league as the Haliburton Huskies, may fold this week after losing several of their players to the OMHA. The Echo has learned.

The break-up will mean that the Huskies may have to re-arrange their season schedule, which could cause some serious arena-time problems elsewhere in the league.

The Madoc team has been playing seven OMHA players from Campbellford, who apparently are not on waivers and who have not been released from the minor league. Minor hockey officials in the town became concerned that this might jeopardize the quality of the play from the town's teams, and consequently, made demands that the seven boys be returned to the Campbellford league.

"We have a problem," said Madoc coach Brian Armstrong. "We can't use these minor hockey players from Campbellford, and this means that the present situation will either be rectified by Friday or we will no longer have a team."

The Madoc team also are playing two boys from Tweed, who are making similar bans against Madoc.

Some of the out-of-town players were on minor waivers when playing for Madoc last year, but these have expired. Armstrong says that he has been trying to obtain waivers since the boys started playing.

But according to Campbellford minor hockey president Claire Lisle, "we've already decided that we're not going to release any of the boys. We lost seven good players this season and we wanted to set a precedent so we don't lose any more," he said.

Lisle added that he thought Madoc "should have approached us at the beginning of the year. As it was, the team told the boys to get their own waivers, which they never did."

Lisle said the boys themselves had mixed feelings about playing with Madoc. "They got their tape and sticks free, but I don't think any of them were really decided."

Bill Mullholland, of Campbellford, a member of the executive for the area OMHA, said that "Madoc was taking a lot of good players from Campbellford, and I think this is the main reason for the disagreements."

Mullholland said out-of-town players can only be issued minor waivers, which are good only for one year, or an outright release. And Madoc had not applied or approached Campbellford OMHA to apply for either one before playing the boys on the team.

As a result of the disagreements, last Friday's game against the Huskies in Haliburton was cancelled since there were not enough Madoc players to make a complete team.

Don Lloyd Dysart arena manager said "they phoned me at 11 o'clock in the morning the day of the game and told me they weren't coming up. Well, we have a game coming up against them on Friday, but I don't think we're going."

Howie Stevenson, convenor of the Junior 'D' league, who is also on the OMHA Board of Directors, said that if there will be a game played on Friday, Madoc will request that Haliburton play the game there, since the team is now in "confusion."

"Possibly because of past experiences or negotiations, the Campbellford OMHA and Madoc are not on the best of terms," said Stevenson.

An official decision on the case will be made by the OHA executive by Friday. However, Lisle feels that "it's over. I don't see any change. I think it's over for the Madoc Juniors."

Squash club held finals

On December 4, the Highlands Squash Club held the finals of its first House League. Rydman's Robots and Dawson's No Faults were eventual finalists from the eight teams involved in weekly competition. The evening events displayed the same keen competition during the past six weeks. The members of Dawson's team are Art Dawson, Blair Pierce, Barbara Pierce and Betty Peragino who won eight games and Rydman's team of Ken Rydman, Kirk Creelman, Shirley Rydman and Janet O'Neil won seven. A large number of club members were on hand to cheer on the teams and watch the awards ceremony.

The winter house league starts in January and because of demand there will be two evenings of competition.

Marty Gooden, captain of the Dorset team who won the tournament championship, receives the C.W. Hodgson Memorial Trophy from Barb Hodgson of the Haliburton OMHA executive.

Barb Hodgson presents the Glen Hodgson Consolation Trophy to Bancroft captain Ed Reinhardt.

Sutton takes tournament, Bancroft wins consolation

"It was a helluva tournament, especially because we won," said Sutton Bantam hockey coach Bob Andrews after his team won the Hodgson Memorial Bantam Tournament held at the Dysart arena last Saturday.

Teams from Bancroft, Peterborough, Dorset, Park, Gravenhurst, Bracebridge, Haliburton, Minden and Sutton showed up at the tournament to compete in a hard fought battle which eventually saw the two local Minden and Haliburton teams miss the finals. Bancroft came away as the consolation champions.

The first game, between Haliburton and Minden, wound up with the Haliburton squad losing to the visitors by a 6-4 margin. Goals for Minden were scored by Kevin Hamilton, Ivan Ingram, who received a hat trick, Eldon Bull and Terry Allure. The Haliburton markers were scored by Steven Smith, Duff Mitchell and David Nicholls, who scored two. The three stars of the game were Ivan Ingram and Eldon Bull for Minden and Duff Mitchell for Haliburton.

Peterborough swamped Bancroft in game 2 by a score of 11-2. The three stars were Scott Hogarth for Bancroft and Terry Downer and Dave Strickland for Peterborough.

Game 3 saw Gravenhurst take out Dorset Park by a score of 7-0. Mike Buchanan was the star of the Dorset team, while Dwayne Mercer and Joe Murgel received star recognition for Gravenhurst.

Sutton and Bracebridge tangled in game 4, with Sutton coming away the winners with the score at 5-2. George Lefave and Bill Long were the Sutton stars, while Dave Ruttle was the Bracebridge star.

Going into the semi-final competitions, Haliburton lost to Bancroft in consolation eliminations by a score of 9-1. Dave Nicholls scored the lone Haliburton goal, and was assisted by Paul Vuksic and Steve Smith. Nicholls received ed the award as Haliburton's star, while Steve Hinze and Todd Murdock were Bancroft's stars.

Minden did somewhat better with the out-of-towners in game 6. Though they lost 2-1 to Peterborough, the game itself was probably the most exciting of the tournament. All the scoring took place in the final period within the last four minutes of play.

Peterborough scored with 3:24 left in the period, but Minden was not to be outdone. At 2:29, Terry Allure scored for Minden backed up by Andrew Shapiera. But hopes of victory for the local team fell when Peterborough scored at 1:04. Terry Crowe was the star for Minden, while goalie Ed Carpenter and Kent Ferguson were the Peterborough stars.

Game 7 saw Dorset beat Bracebridge by a score of 5-1. The Dorset stars included Steve Cusimano and Darren Whiteside. Mike Crawford was the Bracebridge star.

Gravenhurst and Sutton stepped in the ring in game 8. Sutton won the game 3-0 with George Lefave and Len Bigcanoe as the winning stars, and Rob McLaren was the star for Gravenhurst.

Dorset and Bancroft met in game 9 to decide the consolation championship. Bancroft ended up shutting out Dorset by a score of 3-0, and Mark Sydock and Alan McMunn took the star awards for the winners, while Mike Buchanan took the award for the losers.

In game 9 between Gravenhurst and Sutton, Sutton again shut out the opposition, Peterborough, by a score of 3-0. George Lefave and Len Bigcanoe received the winning star awards, while Rob McLaren took the loser's star award.

In the championship game, Sutton again shut out the opposition, Peterborough, by a score of 3-0. Peterborough though losing the match, won the Most Sportsmanship Trophy. Christ Bingham achieved the shut-outs for the Sutton team.

Lost to Bewdley last Wednesday 9-5

Huskies losing streak still intact

Last Wednesday night at Bewdley arena, the Huskies went down in flames for the fifth time this season.

It was a bad loss, since now the Huskies' losses outnumber their wins; a statistic that would have been laughed at by each player on the team at the beginning of the year.

But the Huskies must now face reality.

The team is slowly going downhill.

Coach Rick Wood's decision to change goaltender Craig Wood for Chris Roberts was a necessary one. Wood had not won a game in weeks. Manager Don Lloyd said "It wasn't Chris's fault," he couldn't keep the opposition from scoring.

Consequently the Huskies lost 9-5.

It was Bewdley all the way in the first period. Goals were scored by the hometowners at the 15:44, 10:34, 6:44 and the 5:08 marks. The first goal was scored on a power play when Steve Davies got the gate for roughing.

Bewdley continued with their domination of the Huskies in the second period and scored goals at 19:38 and 16:27. Haliburton centre Tim Bain replied to the last one when at 5:44, leftwinger Chris Hodgson and defenseman Barry Shaw helped out on the goal. The Huskies saw further relief at 4:35. Hodgson came up with a goal and was helped out on the play by centre Randy Barras and Bain.

Things looked even brighter at 3:47, when defenseman Dwight Sisson put one away for his third of the season, as Hodgson assisted on the play. Davies received a five minute major for fighting and was given a game misconduct in the period at the 15:43 point.

The third period became an even struggle between the two clubs. Though Bewdley scored three goals at the 17:30, 11:07 and the 8:49 minute marks, the Huskies came up with some good efforts and managed two goals before the end of the game. At 5:46, Hodgson came up with his second goal of the game when Bain and Shaw assisted. The final goal of the match came at 3:13 when rightwinger Ed Roberts assisted by Barras and Shaw, scored.

The next game for the Huskies may be on Friday, when they travel to Madoc.

The team has yet to decide as to whether they will go or not, since Madoc is having problems with injured players. Madoc also did not show up for last Sunday's game for this reason.

The following Sunday, Bewdley will visit at Haliburton. Game time then will be at 2 p.m.

Haliburton Bantams continue to win, beat Bobcaygeon in 3-2 squeaker

The Haliburton OMHA Bantams showed a continued improvement in league play with a 3 - 2 win over Bobcaygeon last Tuesday.

Haliburton led by Dave Nicholls had to fight an upward battle but finally came through with four minutes left in the third period to go ahead and win the game. Bobcaygeon opened the scoring in the first period, but before the end of the second period, Dave Nicholls scored his first of three goals, assisted by Glen Evans to tie the game at 1 - 1. At the 9:40 mark of the third period Bobcaygeon scored again, only to have Nicholls reply three minutes later, assisted by Paul Vukic. Nicholls' final goal of his hat trick came two minutes later, assisted by Scott Rae to earn the win for Haliburton.

On Saturday, in the Hodgson Memorial Tournament, Haliburton started off with an exciting game against Minden, but lost it in overtime.

Haliburton started off fast in the first period to outscore Minden 3 - 1. Haliburton's first goal came within the first minute of play when Duff Mitchell scored, assisted by Fred Roberts and Norm Berry. Mitchell scored again 3 minutes later on a deflection of a strong point shot by Norm Berry. Before the end of the period, Dave Nicholls scored unassisted to make the score 3 - 0 for Haliburton. The second period belonged to Bobcaygeon as they scored 3 unanswered goals to take a 4 - 3 lead. The only goal of the third period was again scored by Nicholls, assisted by Scott Rae and Paul Vukic to send the game into overtime.

The overtime period was full of excitement and only due to the excellent Minden goaltending did the final score end up 6 - 4 for Minden. In Haliburton's second game of the series, Bancroft proved to be a superior team by trouncing the local boys 9 - 1. Haliburton's lone goal came in the first period when Dave Nicholls converted a nice pass from Paul Vukic and Scott Rae.

This week the league leading Oakwood team is here on Tuesday night and Haliburton travels to Minden for their tournament on Saturday.

Wilberforce Bantams lose

The Wilberforce OMHA Bantams seem to be playing better on visiting ice than they do on home ice, when they lost in Bancroft on November 30.

The margin they lost by, however, was only 3 - 1. And Wilberforce certainly can't attribute the loss on the amount of penalties they received, as Bancroft received six to their four.

Bancroft scored first at 14:01 of the first period. A second goal came with 6:20 left, and Wilberforce was behind with a 2 - 0 margin. There was no scoring in the second period and Wilberforce failed to capitalize on Bancroft's penalty situation. The team received three to Wilberforce's two penalties in the period.

The third period saw both teams coming out skating. But early in the period, at the 17:41 mark, Bancroft connected once again to increase the lead. But the Wilberforce squad was not to go down without fighting.

At the 5:35 mark, Glen Clarke scored the lone Wilberforce goal. He was assisted on the play by Jeff Smith and Mike Smith.

Full program of events again planned

Ski club appoints executive

by Barb Pierce

The Haliburton Highland Cross Country Ski Club held its annual general meeting at Haliburton High School last Tuesday. A turnout of 40 members elected the executive for the 1978-79 season. The President, Blair Pierce, Vice President is Stuart Baker, Secretary is Al Oakley, Treasurer is Kit Koehler. Memberships will be handled by Jack Bassett, Trail Supervisor is Bob Heyes and in charge of instruction is Karl Hartwick.

A full program of events is again planned for the skiing season including a waxing seminar on December 27 and an instruction day on December 31. A day of skiing with instruction (there will be equipment for those who need it), will be held at Camp Wanikaeta, followed by supper and a social evening on January 20.

Quite a bit of volunteer labour has gone into trail improvements this fall, and should result in better skiing along the Jim Beef/Glebe Park system. Altogether now there is close to 40 km. of trails extending from the museum in Glebe Park down to the lodges on Lake Kashagawigamog. With one more good snowfall, the groomers should be able to get out on the trail and start packing and tracking.

A big event this year will be the Haliburton Ski Tour. A different format has been undertaken this year. The Tour will be run on February 24, and has been sanctioned by the Southern Ontario District of the Canadian Ski Association. Having this sanction will bring considerable interest from skiers from across the province, as the Haliburton Tour will now be part of the S.O.D. Tour Circuit. Many skiers follow these events because there is a touring medal program for skiers who complete a requested number of kilometers. This circuit is really more along the lines of "citizen racing". There will be awards for winners in men's/women's age classes as well as overall best times.

The Tour will be run at Woodland Ranch, and much of the trail preparation and tour organization will be done by the staff there. Two distances will be offered - a short tour of 10 km. and a longer tour of 30 km.

As there may be 200 - 400 skiers at this event, the club will need a good number of volunteers to help with the organization.

Information about club memberships or program is available from any of the club executive. Watch the paper for notices as well.

The proposed calendar of events for the season is listed below. Details will be available at the general meeting and in future newsletters. Watch the Echo for ads and possibly a ski column.

1978 Calendar of Events
December 27 - 7:30 p.m.: Waxing Seminar -- High School.
December 31 - 10:00 a.m. - noon: Instruction Day for Club members -- High School Football field.
January 7 - 10:00 a.m.: Muskoka Loppet 30 km.

January 13: Ski Day with Instruction -- Camp Wanikaeta.

February 10 - 11: Kawartha Ski Tour 10 km. to 75 km.
February 17 or 18: "Pre Tour" Get details at meeting.
February 24: Haliburton Highlands Ski Tour (Sanctioned by S.O.D.)
March 4: Haliburton Forest Long Distance Tour 60 km. (Not for the faint of heart).

Haliburton Curling Club News

by Tom Stinson

This week the Ladies Provincial play-downs take over the rink on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday for this district. Our club is represented by a strong team: Phyllis Bishop, Linda Beachli, Sheila Poppel and Dorothy Wilson. Spectators are welcome to come in and see some fine ladies' curling. We wish our rink luck.

Our men's senior rink of Joe Iles, Ken Wilson, Ray Scott and Russell Woodcock represented Haliburton in Division 4 of the OCA Seniors Division. This past weekend they ran into strong rinks in the first round from the Fenelon and Peterborough curling clubs, losing two very close, well curled games. This is a double knock-out play-down and brings together strong curlers. We have been close in the past, and this new rink will be contenders again.

Haliburton's big "Sky-line" spiel, January 19, 20 and 21, has drawn many fine entries - right now there are only two openings left. Oshawa always figures strongly in thisspiel and this year will have eight rinks entered.

Our weekly early schedules have only two games to go before Christmas break, but a full schedule will begin again immediately after the new year. We will welcome any curlers who were unable to make the first schedule. We have room for more in the new year.

Skating was the popular sport at the Monmouth arena Saturday afternoon. Free skating was offered to children for the day to celebrate Santa's visit to Wilberforce.

It was exciting hockey all the way in Haliburton on Saturday afternoon when the Hodgson Memorial Bantam Tournament took place. Here, a Bancroft player attempts to backhand one into Dorset's goal in the consolation final. Bancroft won the game 3 - 0.

Along the Trails by Roy Bates

Market research figures show that the Province of Ontario now tops the market for sleds in North America.

The state of Michigan, which has been in the lead for some time, has slipped to second place and Quebec has dropped to third. Sales of new machines were up last year and are still improving. Approximately 20 per cent of Ontario residents will ride a snowmobile at least once this winter.

Where will they ride? From the excellent publicity that the Highlands of Haliburton has been receiving recently, (see "From The Chamber" last week's paper) it can be expected that a good many of them will ride here. And why not? Our trails, our resorts, our motels and lodges are as good as you will find anywhere in Ontario.

Let us not depend entirely on free promotion. Abe Lincoln once said, "Government should not try to do everything for people, it should help people to do for themselves." This can hold true for publications like Bombardier's Snowmobile Vacation Guide and Snowmobile Sports. It can be a one-shot deal unless we show a sincere interest in helping ourselves.

There could be no better way to build on the publicity provided in the stories and articles of last month's Snowmobile Sports than to place a few ads in the next issue showing what we have to offer here. Incidentally, the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs lists in that magazine (twice in the season) all O.F.S.C. Associate Members. Ten of those listed in the September issue were Haliburton area businesses. Very good. But there is plenty of room for more in the January up-dating. For information on Associate membership, call this writer.

DRIVERS TRAINED

Twenty-six young snowmobilers were trained and certified at the school held December 3 at Hall's Lake. Instructors for the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association sponsored school were Bob Jennings and Bob Patton. Further classes will be held throughout the winter. For information on enrollment, call this writer at 457-1658.

HELP FOR THE BOMBIS

The H.C.S.A. has been so successful in developing new trails that it has extended itself beyond the capacity of two Bombis to adequately cover the grooming needs. Taking up the slack this year will be several volunteer operations and a new Alpine.

The Alpine is provided on loan from Prentice Roads and will work mainly in the area south of Haliburton to Irondale and Gooderham. The club is hopeful that the old trail to Tory Hill and Wilberforce can be re-established and groomed to make a southern connection with the Paudash Trail Blazers. The Harcourt connection is now completed and will be maintained by the Paudash club.

Snowmobilers at West Guilford have long shown a keen interest in the Lypsy Lake route to Kennisiss. This, being a lake and portage route, is not a practical route for Bombi grooming nor can it be funded. It will be maintained this year by members of the West Guilford Recreation Committee with a light-weight drag provided by the H.C.S.A. volunteers have come forward to operate similar projects on the Drag Lake to Fort Irwin route and on trails in the vicinity of Little Hawk Lake. Drags will be made available to other responsible club members on request. The H.C.S.A. is most appreciative of member participation in this way. A complete report on the success of each operation will follow when they get established.

Gord Brown of Haliburton, and Tom Prentice of Minden will be the Bombi operators again this year. They will work without outsiders once their trails are packed for they will have the security of two-way radio communication. It's a lonely job, nonetheless, so wave as you ride by.

TELL YOUR STORY

When you take that memorable ride this winter, take along a notebook and a camera. Snowmobiler publications simply can't get enough good snowmobiling stories. You don't have to be an author. Jot down in your own words the interesting features of the trip and send it to me. You could even win one of several prizes offered for the best stories of the season. Remember though, pictures for publication should be made with black and white film.

FLUORIDE SUPPLEMENTS = HEALTHY TEETH PARENTS

Fluoridation of the water supply reduces tooth decay by 66%.

However, in our Health Unit area, no municipal water supplies are fluoridated.

If children up to 14 years of age take daily fluoride supplements (tablets or drops), benefits equivalent to fluoridation can still be obtained.

(These benefits are in addition to those received from fluoride toothpastes, treatments and mouth-rinsing programs.)

To ensure your child is receiving the correct dosage, contact your physicians, dentist, or Health Unit Dental Services for a prescription for fluoride supplements.

Families with private wells should first obtain a free water test kit (for fluoride) from your local Health Unit office. Many wells in our area contain adequate natural fluoride.

News from Extendicare

by Dr. W. O. Anderson

Monday started with the ladies, Mrs. Florence Stagg, Mrs. Flossie Burk, Mrs. Ada Denholm, Mrs. Hazel Parish, Mrs. Noreen Stevens and Mrs. Pat Burk, making a batch of naniamo and cock-aigie bars just so the cookie jar has cookies.

This session was repeated Tuesday morning to complete what was not completed yesterday and last Thursday. The same crew of ladies turned up.

Volunteer helpers for the afternoon bingo were Mrs. Dorothy Davidson, Mrs. Bessie Sedgewick, Mrs. Dorothy Iles and Mrs. Betty Wise. This bingo has become very popular filling the activity room better than other activities.

There was more baking Wednesday morning by Mrs. Florence Stagg, Mrs. Hazel Parish and Mrs. Maude Weston. There was Mrs. Eileen Morrison as a volunteer helper. This session was to finally finish all outstanding unfinished baking of the week.

Soon Extendicare will begin to half empty as it did last Christmas. It is so nice for those with friends to give them a break away, although from what we see and are told of what is going on we will surely not lack for enjoyment should we be left to stay. The staff give a party to us which is usually tops, lots of fun, plenty of tasty enjoyable food and lots of interesting company. Of those going away some will go to the city, others to a rural holiday, while an odd one may simply decide to hole up for a day or so in some motel or hotel just for the change. In other words, we have many dispositions around us. In a few days, the Happy Gang are entertaining the volunteer helpers, usually a gay and interesting party, most of whom we are getting to know quite well.

The monthly birthday party was advanced considerably this month on account of the Christmas festivities, at which two of the residents were honoured: Mrs. Gladys Romeyn and Mrs. Myrtle Johnston. Many of the carols were sung to the accompaniment of Mrs. Betty Salvatori on the piano and Charles Plewman on the harmonica, master of ceremonies by Mrs. Gerane Bon-yun, and Mrs. Pat Burk turn about. We played that game we can call musical tokens, which being in a bag was passed one to another until the music stopped when one of the tokens were taken from the bag and put on regardless. Now and then it could be an embarrassment to the wearer. Finally a snack came of juices or tea and the orange cake baked in our kitchen. Everyone though the cake was real good but as you know some cakes in the baking will accumulate a little more carbon on the bottom than the ladies bargained for, even so, a little extra carbon is soothing to the stomach. We hope therefore that everyone ate all of this good cake that was served to them. Happy birthdays were sung, pictures were taken and the party was over. The residents and, in particular, the year older ladies enjoyed it.

The Rev. Trevor Denny of St. George's Anglican Church, Haliburton, was the sky pilot for the Friday morning devotional period. His remarkable baritone voice was the only musical accompaniment, but sufficient guide for us to sing the usual hymns by. The theme "God gave his only begotten son to us, that those that believe will have life everlasting life". Rev. Denny dealt with this in his usual efficient way. As usual after the service, Mary Currah poured the tea or coffee with delicious biscuits from the cookie jar.

The Friday movies were varied. The first was 'Twas the night before Christmas', a cartoon film in illustration. One point here in light of our present knowledge shows Santa lighting his pipe which just as much as says smoking a pipe is all right for boys and girls when they grow up. This is one movie especially for children and should not show Santa smoking at all because it is not good for them. The second feature was the Old Lady Who Swallowed A Fly, was very good, a cartoon also with provision for a singing

News from Hyland Crest

With the staff Christmas concert behind, it's time to turn our attention to other upcoming events for the festive season. On Friday, December 15, the St. George's Choir will be visiting at 7 p.m. to sing songs of the season. And then on Wednesday, December 20, the Minden Gospel Church will be around to sing Christmas carols, which will also be held at 7 p.m.

The auxiliary Christmas tea will be held at 2 p.m. on Thursday, December 21. A big crowd is expected for this event.

Last week, prior to the concert, on Monday, the fun and fitness program was carried with everyone in the usual enthusiastic moods. Crafts period was held in the afternoon and later on in the day, movies called Africa's Big Game and The Incredible B.C. Forest were shown. On Tuesday morning, Rev. David Barker from St. Paul's Anglican Church gave communion.

Witnesses attend convention, participate in Norval assembly

Last weekend local witnesses were part of the 1,289 who attended the second of their semi-annual conventions in the Assembly Hall at Norval, Ontario.

The theme "Rendering Sacred Service with Loyalty" was developed throughout the two-day gathering with lectures, demonstrations and study sessions. It was pointed out to the delegates that serving God at times can bring difficulties, even suffering, but that a Christian still views this service a privilege, relying on God to provide the strength to carry on and having confidence in the fact that his or her loyalty to God will not go unnoticed. On Saturday, 14 new witnesses showed by water baptism that they are willing to loyally serve their God. On the following day a capacity audience heard the main address "Meeting the Test of Christian Loyalty" which was given by Arthur Powley, District Supervisor for Eastern Canada. This talk was also attended by many non-witnesses, illustrating the point that Jehovah's Witnesses are one of the fastest growing religions in the world.

Lillian Curry of Haliburton celebrated her 90th birthday on Sunday and there to help her celebrate it were her two great granddaughters, Kendra Curry (left) and Kimberley Curry, daughters of Peter and Robyn Curry. A luncheon was held at the Wig-A-Mog Inn early on Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Curry. Those in Attendance included Ethel Curry, Ronald and Maxine Curry, Viola Bishop, Andrew Curry, Wesley and Kitty Baker and Greta Curry, all of Haliburton. From Toronto, Mike and Dorothy Horner and Ernie and Dorothy Jeans also attended. Gary and Janice Horner of St. Catharines and Shirley and Bob Bell of Ottawa were present to help Miss Curry celebrate. She was presented with a rocking chair, which she is sitting on, by the gathering.

Craft Talk

By Louisa Rush

Now that the frosty mornings are here, one cannot help thinking that the festive season is not too far away! I have been saving these ideas for this particular time of the year, as they are ideas for that season.

While in Barbados last Christmas, one friend decorated her tree entirely with seashells and I must say it looked very different and unique and so in keeping with that part of the world.

The prettiest shells were left in their natural state, some had a pearl or two glued into a curve, others had been spray painted either gold or silver. I was told this was to cover the defects. Tiny holes had been pierced in the shells so that they could be hung with a very fine thread allowing them to hang free and twist and turn with the movement of the air. It was one of the prettiest of trees that I have seen. So if junior has carted home shells from the beach this summer, you will have an idea of what to do with them.

Another idea for Christmas tree trimming I saw in a wool shop in Florida. Tassels made from wool about three inches in length all from red wool were hanging from every branch, no other colour, just red and it was most effective. A very inexpensive way of trimming and appropriate for a wool shop I thought.

Another idea I saw while in Barbados which I thought you might like to hear about, was a tree shape fashioned with plants. Of course as you know, poinsettias grow practically wild there and into quite high bushes.

My friend's husband had made her this stand which she uses every Christmas. It was three half rounds of plywood, the lower one about six inches off the ground was about 22 inches wide, the second one about 10 inches above was narrower, about 16 inches wide and the top one again about 10 inches above, was only about 8 inches wide.

These half-circle shelves were attached to a centre pole and to stays at either side. Onto these shelves were placed potted poinsettias quite close together, so that the blooms of the plants cover the pots of the row above. One got the effect of a beautiful tree just covered with these huge red flowers.

This week's pattern No. 7561 are tiny crochet Christmas trees for hanging on your own tree or to decorate packages or windows. Combined with the motifs from crochet pattern No. 7463 which look like tiny snowflakes they would look most attractive used in the way I have described.

To order any leaflet mentioned, send 75 cents for each, plus a stamped self addressed return envelope. Send to: Louisa Rush, "CRAFT TALK", c/o The Haliburton County Echo, Box 360, Haliburton, Ontario. KOM 1S0.

Gems of Truth

The World's Most Historical Event

The birth of the Lord Jesus was unique in more ways than one. Not only had that birth been foretold many years hence, but also that the One born would be in a class all by Himself, not just merely another man. It is true that the birth of other people had been foretold, such, for instance, as Isaac, Samson, Cyrus and John the Baptist. With the exception of Cyrus (Is. 44:28; 45:1), the prophecy preceded their birth by but a few months. But in the case of the Lord Jesus, predictions concerning His coming, Person, and ministry, extend back to the Garden of Eden, to the time of Adam's fall into sin. Genesis 3:15. All of these predictions were not like the heathen soothsayers, whose language was obscure, and subject to double meaning, but were clear, precise, definite, and incapable of being mistaken. The branch of the human family from which He should come was named the Semitic or descendants of Shem. Genesis 9:26.

It is thus that the nation, (Israel) the tribe (Judah) the family (of David), were all named specifically in Scripture. 12:1, 49:10. II Samuel: 7:10-17. The time and place of His birth was a matter of record in the Holy Scriptures (Old Test.) Daniel 9:25. Micah 5:2. Some seven hundred years or more before Jesus was born into the world, the Prophet Micah announced, "But thou, Bethlehem Ephratah, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall He come forth unto me that is the Ruler of Israel; whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting" 15:2. From this clear and plain prophetic declaration it is obvious that the Messiah and King of Israel, our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, should be born in Bethlehem. But the Virgin Mary lived at Nazareth, a city of Galilee, so how was this prediction of Bethlehem as the birthplace, to be fulfilled? Luke 1:26, 27.

The Omnipotent God, who selected the place and by the prophet announced it, is never at a loss for ways and means whereby to fulfill His Word. Thus it is that He ordered providence to so overrule events that Joseph and Mary would be brought to Bethlehem, in that Caesar Augustus, the first Roman emperor made a "decree, that all the world should be taxed." Luke 2:1. The census was taken, including the enrollment or register of men, lands and property, and was intended to be a basis for calculating the revenue and making assessment for taxation. This is what Augustus had in mind. But God overruled events so as to make the emperor fulfill His purposes and Word. Heaven and earth are in His hands to execute His purposes and fulfill His Word. Yes, the hearts and minds of kings and rulers are turned withersoever He will. Little did Augustus know that in sending forth his edicts to the utmost limits of his great empire, he was obeying the decrees of the God of Heaven. But he was! And thus by the will of God, Joseph and Mary came to Bethlehem, the city of David.

The place is known as the "city of David", because it was there David's ancestors lived. (Ruth 1:1-19), and here David was born. (1 Sam. 16:1, 17:12, 58). However, when the Lord Jesus Christ was born here. He was in a class all by Himself. Jesus was both human and Divine. As to His humanity. He was role done extra well by Burl Ives. The third film, The David Brown Corporation Companies, one of the world's British based powerful multinationals specializing in gear work but now in almost everything, but chiefly tractors and heavy machinery, with ramifications throughout the world. The last feature was of a Danish artist showing the same person painting landscapes, portraits, etchings, and as a cartoonist. He was surely versatile, and very, very good whatever he was doing.

Ed Schryer, a shrewd politician is to be our next Governor General, Canada is fortunate to have such a man to choose, endowed with just enough socialism to make the role of Governor General interesting. A developing family will do more than anything else to give Rideau Hall a face lift.

The more we see of parliament on television the more we are reminded of a movie set with each participant when he gets the chance of putting his best foot forward. The impression left with us is that the Prime Minister is bored with procedure and prefers otherwise, such as Government by Cabinet only. It is handier, secret, and gets things done much more quickly. It is remarkable that when a member is duly elected and goes to Ottawa, the longer he is there, the more he would like to change the status quo.

Sunday evening we received the news that one of our members, George Young passed away. George was not sufficiently well to participate in the fun of Extendicare life. Our sympathy go to the relatives and friends.

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

As I try to gather my thoughts together for this week's column, I am reminded of the following remarks that I have heard through the media. Are we thinking of what Christmas is really all about, or is it just a field day for the things advertised, each one seems better than the one shown yesterday. No wonder the children are confused. Each day they change their minds; and each thing they want is more expensive. What has happened to the simple things of life? Is it our fault as adults that they as children have lost sight of what Christmas really means? I'm afraid it is, for we seem to have forgotten as well. I do believe in Santa Claus, not for myself but to help the small children hold on to something stable in these unstable times; then as they become old enough to understand, it is up to us to implant the true meaning of Christmas in their minds. My most vivid memory of this fact goes way back to when I was about six years old. My sister and myself had one of those children's diseases, the kind you are quarantined and, of course, it was right in the Christmas season. We were very upset for how could Santa visit us when we were ill because he might get what we had. Our father was very understanding, and that was when he started to implant into our minds the fact that there was more to the season than just Santa, still letting us know that Santa would not forget us. How he did it I still do not know; but one thing has stayed with me all these years, the true meaning of Christmas. By the way, Santa did come, and he did not get the scarlet fever, as far as I know. Mr. and Mrs. Gary Warburton have returned home from their holiday in Nassau, which they won in the IGA contest last summer. Winners of last week's Mini Card Party were: Diane

Warness; Cribbage - Cora Hewitt and Ethel Leigh; Euchre - lone hand on a cut - Harry McMinn, Pearl Cowen and Mary McKelvey. There will be no L.O.B.A. card party this month as the holidays come on their date. There will be two Christmas parties next week. On the 19th, the Martha group of the U.C.W. are meeting at the church hall and on the 20th, the Women's Institute are having their Christmas party at the United Church Hall starting at 7:30 p.m. All ladies welcome to join with them. A gift exchange, roll call and Christmas verse is included. The Fred Hewitts of Scarborough spent the weekend with Mrs. Joyce Hewitt. Last Sunday evening was the White Gift Service at the United Church. I'm ahead for now, as I have all but three or four of the last of my gifts ready. I do hate the last minute rush, especially when you have the things. Usually I am at it Christmas Eve, but not this year. The Les Coulters, Craig and Amber of Kirkfield visited with the Phil Robinsons recently. This Thursday evening is Turkey Bingo at the Rotary Bingo starting at 8 p.m. Last Wednesday the librarians in the County attended a workshop in Haliburton Village. They were treated to a luncheon at Lakeside Motel. Present at the luncheon were Roy Brohm, chairman of the County Library Board and Marilyn Stouffer, regional director for the County Board. Virna Jarvis spent the weekend with her sister Helen Brown at Halls Lake. We are sorry to hear of so many folk being ill at present. I do hope everyone is well by Christmas time. Everyone will be baking now for Christmas so here is another recipe to try. Candies are always nibbled on that day and are expensive so try this: Butterscotch Fudge: one 4 ounce package butterscotch pudding (not instant), one cup brown sugar; 1/2 cup white sugar; 1/2 cup milk; 3 tablespoons butter; one third cup chopped walnuts; put pudding powder, sugars in medium pot and stir well; add milk, butter and stir well. Bring to a rolling boil over medium heat stirring constantly. Boil 4 minutes longer, (time it), remove from heat and stir for 3 minutes, add walnuts then beat until it begins to show spoon strokes. Pour at once into buttered 8 x 8 pan. Work fast or it will be hard before you finish, this keeps well in refrigerator, if you can keep your husband out of it. Minden Minor Hockey is on the move again as the kids in the ice machine have been ironed out, but they do need more support from the people. It was not good for the boys this past weekend, when they played at a nearly empty arena. There were more people from out of town who came with their teams than local. With so many games to catch up on, do come out and support the teams. This week there will be two games Thursday evening, the first starting at 7 p.m.; two games starting at 7 p.m. on Friday; Saturday will be the tournament for the Bantam "A's" starting at 8 a.m. Do come out and cheer the teams on. They need your support. As most of you know the "Progress" has changed hands and we welcome the new editor, Bob Arlington, and his wife, Alison; layout, Linda Bishop; ads and sales, Bill Davis and new owners, Grenville Stamp and Ron Gambell. Adios and take care now.

Regina Travesani of Toronto, visited with Mrs. Selina Adams and other friends, over the weekend. Sharon Stata spent the weekend with her parents, Wes and Ev Stata. Robert Griffin was in Toronto for a few days last week. Wray Knowles was home for the weekend, visiting with his family. Wray spent some time in a recording studio last week, where he is in the process of making a recording of his own songs and music. All but two of the Holly Sisson family were home at some time on the weekend to celebrate Sylvia's birthday on Sunday.

Coboconk News

by Shiela Lake

On Monday evening, the Anglican Church ladies and their helpers prepared a delicious Christmas dinner and some 35 to 40 parishioners enjoyed a real feast. Two of the ladies, who shall remain unnamed, following the dinner, came along to the Orange Hall for their 8 p.m. meeting. Nothing unusual about that! But following the meeting, and an exchange of gifts, the ladies sat down to a pot luck dinner and we all had an enjoyable evening - kidding the ones who were having their second dinner that evening. Last Saturday evening, George Greer went by ambulance to hospital but returned home later. And in the middle of the week, Clarence Weaver went by ambulance to Ross Memorial Hospital. A time of silence was held at the Lions bingo held in the Lions Hall on December 6. This was in memory of the late Norma Hong, who died tragically in a car accident and who often helped with the Lions bingo. Monday evening, we were visited by two Ontario Provincial Police officers from Beaverton detachment. The purpose was to ask questions regarding my husband's employment with the late Clarence Horsley, who had taken hold off the property where the body of Debbie Silverman was uncarried, near Sunderland last month. These two officers were very genial and since they were the ones who dug up the body, they were in charge of the investigation. They had also questioned former employees at Carnarvon and Minden and are trying hard to find some clue that will lead them to the murderer. Speaking of murder, I was shocked to learn on Monday morning that one of my fellow workers had been murdered at Bobcaygeon or Nogies Creek. I had heard the report on the radio but we knew Marj as Marj Smith not Marj Lormand. Although Marj had only been a fellow worker for several months and I know little of her personal life, she was a hard worker and a likeable person. Are you getting weary of the rush and hustle of Christmas shopping? I talked to one lady this week who had been to the Oshawa Shopping Centre earlier - last Saturday to be exact - and she said she was literally exhausted when she got home. She said they had stopped off on the way home and visited the Lindsay plaza to shop - so the far away fields look green, often they are greener nearer home! A number attended the Shiloh Christian Centre turkey dinner at Fenelon Falls on Friday evening, and following dinner saw a Christmas film on the tribulation. Mrs. Marilyn Southern and Mrs. C. Brooks of Lutterworth Pines, Mrs. M. Woods of Cardiff and Mrs. Carol Young of Tory Hill accompanied yours truly to our Avon Christmas dinner and meeting at Holiday Inn, Orillia on December 6. Coboconk Legion Santa's parade and children's Christmas party starts at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, December 17 from the feed mill area and moves up the main street to the Legion hall. Bands, floats, clowns, and of course Santa himself. Candy bags for all the young ones. Everyone welcome.

A very new little girl has taken up residence on Lime Street with mommy and daddy. Little Melissa Erin Bailey, wee daughter of Gord and Marie Bailey arrived on November 26 and is quite established in the adoration of her older little sister. Congratulations to all the family.

Gems of Truth

born of a virgin. The words of the angelic messenger explain adequately the difficulty. "The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee, therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called 'the Son of God'." Luke 1:26-35. To the shepherds on the hillside, the angel announced that birth by saying, "For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord." Three titles are given to Jesus here, "Saviour", "Christ" and "Lord". The word "Saviour" has reference to the redemptive ministry He would accomplish. That is what Calvary is all about. "Christ" refers to His office as the Anointed of God. John 1:41. Acts 4:26-27, 10:38. Then the word "Lord" refers to Jesus being none other than Jehovah God in relation to man's need as a sinner. Both Jesus or Joshua, or Jehovah are names thus used. They simply mean Saviour. The Apostle John can really tell us who Jesus is. John 1:1-18.

Maple Lake News

by Elaine Barjarow

Part of one item from last week was left out. It should have read. While talking to Pearl Foster the other day, she told me that she and her husband Jim along with Bob and Eleanor Patton and Dick and Dorothy Kinsmen had just returned from a trip to Montego Bay in Jamaica. She said that the weather was warm and they really enjoyed their holiday. While there they met and visited with Ken Whitney, who was there on business. These items of news were left out of my column last week, so it will be old news to most people, but will be printed anyway.

Moss and Betty Davis spent four days in Toronto visiting with their son Brian and family. Ralph Joyce called in for a short visit with Charlie Fader before leaving for the winter. Ken Whitney returned home on Saturday, December the second from Jamaica. Friends of E. Mary Foster of Toronto will be glad to hear that he is home from the hospital after heart surgery. He is doing very well, but has to take things easy and be careful. While in Lindsay one day last week I met and had a brief chat with Lynn Cowan, she is the daughter of Ab and Britnie Carr. She told me that she and her family are well. The Stanhope Firefighters are holding their Annual Christmas party for the older people and children of the community on the afternoon of December 16, at the Stanhope Fire Hall. In the evening, they hold a party for the firemen and their wives. Harry and Irene Davis returned last week from vacation in sunny Florida, where they were guests of Don and Jessie Barnette in their new winter home in Largo. When they arrived the temperature was 72° F and for the remainder of their stay each day was a warm 84° F. Harry and Irene also spent part of a day with Alec and Mary Stevenson, they would like to let all their friends know that both are feeling fine and enjoying a life of leisure in St. Petersburg. Had a call from Phrona Sisson the other night to tell me that her brother Willard (Bill) Barry along with his youngest daughter Allison will be coming from England to spend Christmas with her and her husband Calvin. They will be landing at the Toronto Airport on December 21. Anyone who would like to call and renew old acquaintances with Bill will be welcomed at Calvin and Phrona's home. Little Jerry Griffin celebrated his third birthday December 7. Hope he had a great day. Friends of Lloyd Harrison of Toronto will be pleased to hear he is feeling very well after undergoing surgery in Scarborough General Hospital. We hope that he continues to make good progress and is able to be home for Christmas. Larry and Kathy Castle and girls from Mississauga spent the weekend with Kathy's parents. Another great old man

Wilberforce News

by Winnie Schofield

The attendance at the wildlife dinner proved again to be a annual event. Some folks came for miles to sample this unique meal. Deer and moose, beaver, bear and ducks were part of the menu. An added delight were the salmon steaks. The ladies of the Legion Branch 624 assisted by members of the U.C.W. prepared, cooked and served about two hundred people. High praise from satisfied consumers was a reward for their efforts.

Three of Monmouth Township councillors recently attended a seminar on recreation being held in Peterborough at the Sir Sandford Fleming College. Township clerk Sharon Hunter accompanied Margaret Finlay, Mary Barker and Alan Revill.

On the program were lectures on how to recruit and organize various services from volunteers for recreation areas, how to prepare program planning for arts and crafts groups. Suggestions were made to make a survey of people who would be interested by finding out more about those living in the area, exploring the capabilities of newly arrived residents. Some of these could be senior citizens who might have much to offer from past experiences and would be delighted to be asked to help. Children also could help. To be successful you should plan ahead, know what your aims are. Make us of promotion schemes for budgeting and financing. Get leadership from the people and get them involved.

When you finally have things working put your achievements together in a booklet form to let the people know what is available. Margaret Finlay returned the following day to attend lectures on Ontario Home Rental Plan, Home improvement grants and on Government insulation programs.

The ladies of the A.C.W. held their annual Christmas meeting on Wednesday. President Eileen Agnew had prepared a devotional period of scripture readings and carols. The Rev. Moore Smith presented an interesting sketch of Jamaica aided by slides of that Island. Later everyone joined in the packing of boxes of goodies to be given at Christmas time to old friends who are no longer able to participate in daily activities. The Rev. Moore Smith had on display children's books and Mrs. Cameron showed items of Pakistani embroidery, and a fine assortment of articles that she had prepared for missions. It was decided that the contents of the birthday box be sent to the Church Army of Peterborough.

These two young ladies aren't trying out for the remake of 'Saturday Night Fever', but rather are attempting to make the nine hours at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Dance-A-Thon held last Friday. The dance-a-thon was put on to raise money for a trip to Mexico on which some 30 students will be embarking during their March break.

"It isn't failing that spells one's downfall; it is running away, giving up."

A group of 25 enjoyed a pleasant evening at the Ride-out Community Centre on Wednesday, December 6 when the Dorset Seniors held their final get together for the year with a pot luck supper followed by the singing of Christmas music and a social evening of cards and other games. There was a great variety of delicious food and the hall had been beautifully decorated by ambitious members. To start the New Year there will be two meetings on January 10. A committee at 2 p.m. and a business meeting at 8 p.m.

We are happy to welcome Chuck Keown home after spending some time in Huntsville hospital. We wish him a fast and complete recovery.

Barb and Carlo Bevilacqua of North Bay visited with Barb's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clayton last week. Congratulations to the Lake of Bays Old Timer's hockey team for winning the Fair Play Cup for good sportsmanship on and off the ice, at the Old Timers Tournament, recently held in Huntsville.

There is a skim of ice around the fringe of the lake at present. The water looks ominous at this time of year, so thick and black that I think everyone is happy when it is frozen over and whitened with snow. On a couple of mornings, the trees have given the affect of a fairyland with their snow and frost covered branches.

A lot of people are wondering where our birds are. They have put out food but no customers. I have had a couple of jays, one chickadee and one little red-headed woodpecker, but usually have droves of them by this time. Another unusual situation, there are still crows around.

We, in the Dorset area still resent the fact that we do not have free toll calls to Huntsville or Bracebridge. After all, most of our services are in those towns; doctors, dentists, banks and hospitals. We feel cheated. How about it, Bell Canada?

Oscar Sisson from Stanhope celebrated his 92nd birthday on Sunday, December 10. He will be spending the day quietly with his family. We all wish him a happy birthday and many, many more.

There was no service at St. Peter's Church this Sunday, December 10, because all three charges held services at St. Paul's Church at Minden. Bishop Allan Reed dedicated the new rectory the former Vinton Loucks home.

John and Peggy Barclay spent last weekend in Toronto to attend the christening of their grandson Eric William, son of Susan and Bill Elliott.

The Christmas meeting of the A.C.W. will be held at the Library meeting room on Wednesday, December 13. Business meeting at 1 p.m. followed by Christmas films, exchange of gifts and refreshments.

Members of the Stanhope

Library Committee are reminded of the date of the next meeting. It will be held Thursday, December 14 at 7:30 p.m. at the Library.

The annual Carol service at St. Peter's Church will be held December 17 at 7:00 p.m. this year. Please come and join in the carol singing with us.

The library will not be open on Saturday, December 23, but will be open with normal hours on Christmas week, "Wednesday and Saturday."

Harold and Evelyn Barjarow spent the weekend in Toronto visiting with Emery and Grace Foster.

Jim Duggan of Richmond Hill spent a couple of hours with his brother-in-law Larry Castle at Frank Barjarows.

Harold and Della Archer called for a short visit on Sunday with Charlie Fader and also with Earl and Merle Redner.

Ann and Man McKay visited in Toronto this past weekend with their son Ken and his wife Sharon, who is reporting to Princess Margaret Hospital this week.

Our Christmas U.C.W. meeting had some seventy ladies in attendance. They took part in the program and everyone expressed their appreciation and enjoyment in the evening.

Thursday afternoon was the occasion of our Tupperware Party. Proceeds to go to local Brownies and Guides. There were three ladies in attendance which leads me to believe there is not much interested expressed in our young people.

Next Sunday is the date for the Carnarvon Sunday School Christmas Concert at 7:30 p.m. Santa Claus will make a visit after the program. Those Barnhart girls sure are hard workers.

We enjoyed a lovely dinner at Mr. Fogg's on Saturday. Jim Howe, "Super Donkey" and the rest of his donkeys attended with their wives. Carnarvon Lumber also had their Christmas party downstairs.

Don't forget the Carnarvon Choir will share with you on Christmas Eve in a Carol Service at 7 p.m.

More new people are in the community Barry and Doris Stewart will move here permanently in January. They have two children. Stephen in second year high school and Karen in Archie Stouffer School. A warm welcome is extended to the Stewarts' in their new home.

Don Cockell visited in the community on the weekend. Don had the misfortune to fall through a roof on a job and has injured his knees which will require surgery. Bob and Nikki Fletcher are back from their holiday in Mexico looking well-rested.

Kinmount

Kinmount Senior Citizen's Club recently held their Annual meeting. It was the climax of a good year of pleasant association and fellowship, high-lighted by a couple of bus trips.

A potluck lunch preceded the meeting, when the culinary art of the lady members was greatly enjoyed.

Mr. George Webb, a senior citizen visitor from Ottawa, kindly chaired the meeting which resulted in the following executive being duly elected:

President, Clara Watson;

1st Vice President, Ruth Kellett; 2nd Vice President,

Flo Merritt, Recording Secretary, Irene McElwain; Corresponding Secretary, Flossie Sherman; Treasurer,

Florence Schlosser; Membership Secretary, Harold Merritt, Trustees, Percy Sherman, John Hickey, and

Gordon Kellett.

Committee appointments to be made later and so begins our sixth year.

Norland Notebook

by Barbara Maunder

On Sunday, December 17, Norland United Church service has been changed from 11 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. because of the Christmas Sunday School Party after church and the Coboconk Santa Claus parade in the afternoon. A special pre-Christmas service has been prepared for that Sunday so note the change and plan to attend.

Knox United Church, Coboconk will hold a Christmas Eve service for all to enjoy on December 24 at 7:30 p.m.

Our congratulations to great grandmother, Mrs. Vina McGinnis with the happy arrival of Michael David born on December 2 to Murray and Julia (nee Allen) McGinnis of Oshawa. Murray is the son of Goldie and Mildred McGinnis of Coboconk, who are delighted new grandparents.

Coboconk Lions Club members have planned a Christmas treat for children and adults in the form of a sleigh ride (weather permitting) in the Balsam Lake Provincial Park on Saturday, December 16 at 1:30 p.m. Meeting place will be the boat dock parking lot off of North Bay Drive and the sleigh ride will take place on the park property followed by refreshments for all. Come out and enjoy this fun time winter activity courtesy of the Coboconk Lions Club.

Norland Firemen's Hockey Pool winner for Saturday, December 2 was Mrs. Doug (Marilyn) Cameron.

Our bridge club enjoyed a most delightful evening at the Byrnell Golf and Ski Club, Fenelon Falls on Tuesday, December 5. We were served a roast beef dinner in front of a blazing fire in the stone fireplace. The dining room decor is open beams, panelling and wooden tables with coal oil lamps burning on them and a rustic old-fashioned air about the place. It seems that many do not know of this good eating spot but we ladies would certainly recommend it. Byrnell is popular with golfers in the warm weather but at this time of year with good snow conditions, it is a hive of activity with cross country skiers. For those without equipment and wanting to try it out, the club will rent all the necessary equipment. Instruction is also available to learn or improve in this popular winter sport.

Twenty-one Norland Women's Institute members and friends met at the W.I. Hall on Monday, December 4 for the annual smorgasbord turkey dinner supplied by the ladies. Later as part of the program, Mrs. Merle Campbell sang several songs accompanied by her guitar and then was joined by the group singing Christmas hymns. Selections pertaining to the Christmas season were read by Betty Davey and Anna Verkerk followed by a Christmas memory quiz contest.

Noticing the article in last week's Haliburton Echo on the basic life support course that is being offered through the Minden Branch of Canadian Red Cross Society, I called to inquire further about it and applied for my husband and I to attend it. The course starts on January 24 and 25 and is a two-day course. But this first one is expected to be filled by local medical people such as nurses and aides who should have this knowledge before non-medical persons. There are two-day courses also planned for February, March, April and May if there is sufficient interest. The charge is $20 per person and for more details the number to call is Dr. Lodenquai's office 286-2001.

The Country Rollers group will be playing for the teens and twenties holiday dance on Friday night, December 29 in the Norland Community Hall. This dance is sponsored by the ladies auxiliary of the firemen and all young people are invited to attend. Admission charge is $2 each.

Norland bowling team standings as of Wednesday, December 6. Series 2, game 4, teams of L. McLean 19 points, N. Chynoweth and B. Maunder 16 points, K. Watson and T. Watson 15 points, L. Jewell 13 points, B. Davey 11 points, D. Boyce 7 points, ladies high single and triple - Nelly Chynoweth - 243, 639, high average - Rotha Bryant - 186. Mens high single - Jim Boyce 251, high triple - Kim Watson 590 and high average Harry Smith 197.

Huntsville were present to join in the festivities. Best wishes to Jack and Annie.

Perhaps if you are making Christmas gifts that need foam chips for stuffing, you will be interested in this idea to avoid the foam chips from clinging to hands and arms. Rub hands and arms with a fabric softener sheet and the chips won't cling to you.

Harcourt News

The Harcourt Recreation Committee will be hosting a children's Christmas party on Tuesday, December 19 at 7:30 p.m.

The regular Wednesday night bingos held in the community centre will be cancelled on December 20, December 27 and January 3. A New Year's Eve party will be held in the community centre. It will be a pot luck dinner with free admittance and a cash bar.

What Christmas means to some people

Christmas is a time of celebration. We celebrate Christmas because Jesus was born on that day. Some people think Christmas is a time to give and receive gifts. Some people think it is a time to go out, find a tree, then decorate it.

Many people have a tradition on Christmas Day.
Not all people have the same tradition. The Jews don't celebrate Christmas. They celebrate the Hanukkah.
But most of all Christmas means a time of love and care.

SUMMARY DAY "SUMS UP" SPOTLIGHT ON BREAD

Victoria County's Summary Day, the "grand finale" of the fall women's project called "Spotlight on Bread" was held on Thursday, December 7, 1978 from 1 - 3:30 p.m. at the Lindsay Agriculture and Food Building. A total of 268 women completed this course from 17 different groups in Victoria County. Ella Walker, from the West Ops Women's Institute group, acted as chairman of the program whose highlights were the viewing of fancy bread displays, group reports, a bread exchange and a slide presentation entitled, "Break-Making Made Easy." An enjoyable conclusion to a very successful program!

The "Spotlight on Bread" course helped to improve the women's basic skills and developed some more advanced techniques of bread-making. It was sponsored by the Home Economics Branch of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food. A course of this type is open to any interested Women's Institute, church group, sorority or organization. For further information, contact Brenda Kisyk, Acting Home Economist, Victoria and Peterborough Counties at 324-6125.

CROPS MANAGEMENT SCHOOL PLANNED

A training program for farmers in the Kawartha area will be held in Omemee again this winter. The program will focus on Crops Management. This training program will be similar to the Beef Management Schools held in 1977 and 1978, and the Dairy School in 1976. However, this year, the program will be held on 3 days each week, for five weeks. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday are the proposed days, with sessions being held from 10:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. each day.

The Crops Management School will start on Tuesday, February 6 and conclude on Thursday, March 8. Application forms are available from both the Peterborough and Lindsay Agricultural Offices. The deadline for receiving completed applications is Wednesday, January 10.

This school is open to farmers who are interested in learning more about crop production. Participants must be at least 17 years of age or over as of January 1, 1979 and must have been out of school for at least one year. Farmers who participated in a previous management school are eligible to apply again since the topic is different.

No training allowance will be available for participants in this type of program this year.

The Crops Management School is being conducted by the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food and is sponsored by Canada Manpower in conjunction with Sir Sandford Fleming College.

Haliburton Highlights by Creighton Feir

For the past two years, the Village of Haliburton has been talking over the subject of cleaning up all the area from the first crossing right up around the lakefront to the Rotary Beach. A great deal has been accomplished in this area, it's still continuing and there is more to do yet. Changes are being made at the present time and it won't be too much longer when the approach to Haliburton will be something to behold. Last week, a resident of the community dropped me in a note that stated in Canada we have been wasteful of our waterfronts. Generally they have been bleak, deserted places, cluttered with rotting docks and lined with abandoned railway tracks.

Just recently at a meeting of the Rotary Club of Haliburton, the members held a club assembly in which different problems and projects were discussed. On the same evening, Harold Herlihey spoke regarding the District Zone Institute meeting in Winnipeg.

The Brotherhood of Anglican Churchmen will hold their monthly communion and breakfast at St. George's Anglican Church in Haliburton this coming Sunday morning December 17 at 8 a.m. The guest speaker will be one of the members, Earl Cooper of West Guilford. Earl, who is a church layman on various occasions, takes the service at St. Andrew's at West Guilford when the regular minister, Rev. Trevor Denny is away or ill. Earl, who is a member of the Haliburton County Board of Education, is also very active in the community both in West Guilford and Haliburton. He should prove to be a very interesting speaker.

The Haliburton Rotary Club Christmas tree chairman, Bob MacNaull has announced that the Christmas trees this year are selling at $8 and can be purchased at Cliff Dawson's Emmerson Lumber and Haliburton Lumber. I have personally taken a look at some of these trees and it looks as though this year's crop is a good one.

The old Haliburton Pioneer Museum on Park Street is going to be moved to Glebe Park near the site of the newly constructed museum. Pollard, the mover from Lindsay, has had his men on the job and they have jacked the building up in preparation to move it to its new location. We had heard that it was going to be moved shortly but we now understand that it will be next spring before the big move takes place.

Two people passed away recently, one being Jack Richardson who died suddenly at his late residence in Oakville on Thursday, November 30. He was in his 75th year. Jack and his family were former residents of Haliburton when he was here with the Department of Highways. Dorothy Esther Hiltz also passed away on November 29, at the Red Cross Hospital in Haliburton. She was in her 61st year.

Disabled seek new goal

Peterborough's disabled citizens are reaching out for another goal. A Participation House built and equipped for the young disabled people of this community and district. They are on the move!

Participation Houses are not new. Four houses now serve youth in Ontario, two more are under construction. Housing, food and health services, craft programs, a physical education department, hobby clubs, and other activities all assisting to make young lives useful and productive despite physical handicap. Houses providing a compatible home for its residents; a satisfying and stimulating place to live and work.

Spear-heading the drive for a local Participation House is Lois Harte-Maxwell, President of the Peterborough Rainbow Club. A continuous worker for the improvement and provision of adequate facilities for handicapped persons, Harte-Maxwell said, "There are enough disabled youth in this part of the world to justify the building of a house in which young people can continue to learn, develop and grow. It's a must."

"We are going all out to start a first fund-raising effort by sharing in the production of the Holiday Star Telethon

We are certainly pleased to see that Mrs. Alice Barnum has returned home following a stay in hospital. We hope that she continues to have good health. For all those who are ill at the present time we wish them a speedy recovery.

In my column last week I stated that Betty Barnum gave a very interesting talk on her life with the Salvation Army where she is serving in Singapore. She delivered this talk to the Rotary Club of Haliburton. It has been brought to my attention that I should have said Captain Betty Barnum of the Salvation Army not just Betty Barnum. I am sorry this error was made.

The Annual Candlelight Service of Lessons and Carols will be presented at St. George's Anglican Church in Haliburton this coming Sunday evening, December 17 at 7:30 p.m. The St. George's choir have been practising a long time for this evening and combined with the story of Christmas this should be a very beautiful and meaningful service to attend.

Members of the Haliburton District Real Estate Board and their friends held a Christmas Dinner and dance at Wig-a-mog Inn on Friday night. Santa Claus was on hand to present a corsage to each of the ladies and complimentary bar tickets to their escorts. Following a full course turkey dinner with all the trimmings, everybody enjoyed dancing to the music of disc jockey Colin Kressler and his fine selection of recorded music. It was a night of merriment and friendship with that extra touch of genial hospitality by Joan and Art Ward and Dan Radcliffe. Special thanks to conveners Mary VanLieshout and John O'Toole for organizing a great party. This was the first annual Christmas Ball and all agreed its success warrants making it a yearly affair.

The Full Gospel Businessmen's meeting and dinner will be held at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall in Haliburton this coming Saturday evening, December 16 at 7:00 p.m. The guest speaker will be Lovell McGuire.

Nice to be able to buy gas after 6 p.m. in Carnarvon.

Last Monday night, we had our annual Sunshine Sister Party at Stanhope Library.

We attended a staff party at the home of Marie and Elwood Cox on Sunday afternoon.

Hydro says turn Xmas lights off

Turning off Christmas lights before retiring is not only a wise conservation practice — it's a good safety measure.

"Lighted trees, especially, should not be left unattended," warns Roy Chenoweth, Electrical Inspection Superintendent for Ontario Hydro's Georgian Bay Region.

"Another danger is that some householders will try to 'make do' with 'Christmas tree lights and outdoor displays which have already been used for several seasons," says Roy.

"No one can blame shoppers for trying to squeeze a little more out of their Christmas budgets, but don't ignore potential hazards concerning older festive lighting supplies."

"If your lights have been used before, examine them carefully, especially around the base of each socket, and discard any set that has worn insulation, damaged sockets or a faulty plug. Attempting to repair light sets by splicing or taping worn wiring can be dangerous," says Chenoweth. "When buying lights and appliances, shoppers should check to be sure they bear the CSA mark of approval," he adds. "Lights approved for indoor use must never be used outdoors."

Strings of lights should be securely fastened and cords positioned so that they won't be damaged or tripped over.

Receptacles should not be overloaded with two or three sets of lights.

Leaving a light socket empty after removing a burned out or broken bulb can also be hazardous. An inquisitive child may be tempted to put a finger in the empty socket and receive a severe shock. Care should also be taken when using metal reflectors or metallic garlands on trees. They can become live if they contact an empty socket or damaged wire.

So play it safe this holiday season, and don't forget to turn off Christmas lights before going to bed. Santa will always be able to find his way.

Senior citizens receive GAINS increase in 1979

The Honourable Lorne Macack, Minister of Revenue, announced earlier this month the Province's decision to increase the guaranteed income level for Ontario senior citizens, effective January 1, 1979. This increase in GAINS guaranteed income level ensures that Ontario pensioners will benefit fully from the recently announced federal payments, without any reduction in Ontario GAINS payments.

The increase amounts to $20 monthly to single pensioners and $10 monthly to married pensioners who receive the Guaranteed Income Supplement. "Single and married GAINS recipients will continue to receive a maximum monthly payment of $39 and $52, respectively," Macack stated. "Had we not increased the guaranteed income level, monthly GAINS payments for 244,000 Ontario senior citizens would have been reduced as a result of the federal increase."

Macack further explained that an additional 2,500 senior citizens who do not qualify for the federal pension and supplement will receive a monthly increase equivalent to the federal increase. It is estimated this will cost the Province $600,000 annually.

Beginning in January, the guaranteed income level will be $343 per month for single pensioners and $666 per month for married couples who both qualify for GAINS. These rates include the quarterly adjustment based on the Consumer Price Index.

Home of the Week

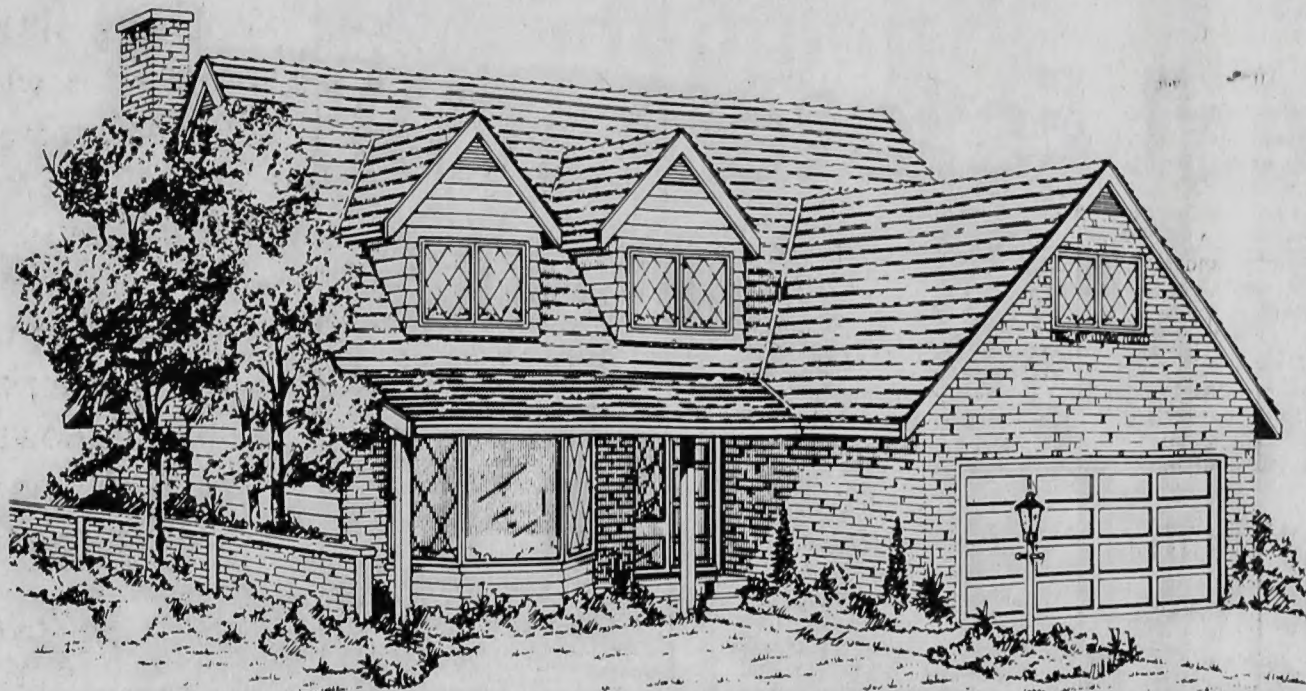

This charmingly traditional home provides the larger family with many convenience features and abundant space, both at present and for future development.

The brick veneer and horizontal siding of the exterior finish combines well with the bow window, dormer windows and diamond panes to lend an air of the rural English cottage.

The weather-sheltered entrance leads naturally left to the large rectangular living-dining room combination, which has a charming bow window at either end and a fireplace facing the living room to provide an interesting dividing wall for the dining room.

A large and open galley-type kitchen separates the breakfast nook and dining room on one side from the large family room on the other. This extremely practical layout enables a good separation of casual and formal dining styles. The family room connects to the patio via sliding glass doors - encouraging casual outdoor dining in fine weather.

All four bedrooms have good natural light, generous closets, and one has a charming alcove provided by the dormer windows. The foyer vanity sink takes the pressure off the central bath, as does the three-piece ensuite with tub in the master bedroom.

A compact utility area enables the positioning of the laundry facilities conveniently upstairs where they're most required.

A large unfinished area over the garage provides the space required for the future development of a children's playroom or lounge; or a studio or office for the professional or business family. A full basement enables the future development of additional leisure facilities for the growing family.

Plans for design no. 77-2065 may be purchased by the single set, at a cost of $70, for the first set and $10, for each additional set, or by the package. A five-set plan package, including the first set, is economically priced at $100, and an eight-set package, also including the first set, is only $125.

Whichever method you choose, please include $4, for postage and handling. B.C. residents add 7 per cent sales tax.

Send for the current edition of Select Home Designs Magazine, Series 38, featuring imaginative decorating and home improvement ideas, plus 350 quality home plans of every type. Available for $2.25 ($1.75 plus 50 cents postage and handling).

To order any of these items, please send cheque or money order payable to Home of the Week. Address to: Home of the Week, c/o The Haliburton County Echo, 382 West Broadway, Vancouver, B.C. V5Y 1R2.

Coincidentally, the reunion will be held in conjunction with Brockville's 1980 Summer Carnival, and thus provides an opportunity for students who have been away from the city for some time to make old acquaintances as well as enjoy the many events planned for the weekend.

As soon as a comprehensive mailing list has been compiled, we will contact all those responding with a complete agenda for this three-day get together.

We anticipate as many as 3,000 students may be in attendance. So note the date on your 1980 calendar. Drop us a line. Send us your address. It should be quite a party!

27. THANK YOU

My family and I wish to express a very sincere thank you to the many friends, relatives, neighbours and business associates who so kindly helped us through the sudden loss of a dear husband and father Clarence. Thank you for the messages sent from Mr. Eakins and Mr. Scott. Also, thank you to anyone who sent cards, flowers and food. Thanks to all the donations to the Shiloh Training School in Fenelon Falls, the Heart Foundation and a memorial fund set up for our local church. Special thanks go to Rev. Miller and Kathy Owens who gave the service such solace and assurance that our loved one was with his father. To Mr. Monk of Welch's Funeral Parlor who gave such feeling of understanding and for his help at this time. To Dr. Good and his staff at the hospital who tried so hard to revive Clarence. To the local florists, Campbell's and Nancy's, who so kindly delivered to our home many of their flowers. Special thanks to the ever faithful ladies of Maple Lake United Church and many of our neighbours who came to our home and provided lunch to all that came after the service. To my sister, children and grandchildren who stood so patiently beside me when I could give so little sympathy. Much appreciation and a feeling of assurance mixed

27. THANK YOU

And I would also like to thank Mr. Gordon Monk of John Welch Funeral Home for all his help. Keith Brannigan and family. 13

A most sincere "Thank You" to our families, our friends, Dr. Hartwick and Dr. Heyes, who, in so many ways too numerous to say, showed us their love and concern during Donna's recent surgery and convalescence. We pray that you will all have a very "Merry Christmas" and may you all be richly blessed in the new year. Johnston, Donna and Tina Bailey. 13

No one heard the footsteps of the angels drawing near, That took from earth to Heaven. The one we loved so dear, He has not really left us, Or has travelled far, Just entered God's beautiful garden, And left the gates ajar. Sadly missed and always remembered by wife Mildred and families. 13

In loving memory of the dearest father. No farewells were spoken, No time to say goodbye, You were gone before we knew it, And only God knows why, It seems so strange without you, We know you've gone to rest, God broke our hearts to prove to us, He only takes the best.

Sadly missed and dearly remembered by daughter Eileen and her family. In loving memory of the dear husband. Precious memories of what we shared and all my love, God knows I cared, I cannot count the times I've cried, And how I miss you by my side. In all my prayers, I hope and pray that we will meet again some day. So dearly loved and so sadly missed by wife Etta. CB/13

I was quite interested in a letter to the editor written by Peter Valentine of Norland in a recent issue of the Toronto Star. Peter, who is well known to most of us, said in part of his letter that as a resident of Haliburton County on part of a parcel of land deeded from the crown to his ancestors years ago, he thinks that more than just the provincial parks should be closed to hunters permanently. He went on to say that it seems our provincial politicians simply do not have the guts to put an end to the decimation of the white tailed deer and all of the other mammals and birds, large and small which once abounded in this area.

Santa Claus is coming to town. He will be on the main street in Haliburton this coming Saturday, December 16. Santa will arrive at 1 p.m. to hand out presents to the children and following this the kids will be treated to two Walt Disney Movies at the Molou Theatre. The entire Afternoon is being sponsored by the Rotary Club of Haliburton.

The Salvation Army annual "Christmas Cheer" collection is now in progress. Donation kettles are located in Minden and Haliburton. If you would like to make a contribution to this most worthy cause, please send it to The Salvation Army, Box 103, Haliburton.

To the various service clubs in the area, I would like to inform you that I would be more than pleased to receive your bulletins and from time to time it will give me the opportunity to put in items from the bulletins to let the public know what you are doing.

It's beginning to look more like Christmas everywhere you go in Haliburton with Christmas trees being cut in the woods, being brought home and decorated, colored lights are appearing on various homes and the merchants have both the interior and exterior of their business places all decorated for Christmas.

Many people from the surrounding communities will be participating in a very special event this coming Sunday evening, December 17. This is the night when the Allsaw Pentecostal Church will hold the Annual Christmas Concert starting at 7:00 p.m.

This concert will feature presentations from the young people, poems, songs, etc. and will also have a short play by the older folks.

This is a time when the children enjoy sharing their hard work and preparation with parents, neighbours and friends. Pastor Jack Chamberlin joins everyone from the Allsaw Church in inviting people from the surrounding community to come and enjoy this evening of fellowship.
